Holiday Deaths Decrease Sharply

Toll Is Below Christmas; More Than 1,100 Die in 2 Week-Ends

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's accidental death toll over the New Year's holiday—400—represented a sharp drop from the near record Christmas toll of more than 700.

Thus, during the two long week-end holidays, more than 1,100 persons lost their lives in violent accidents. More than 800 of them were killed in traffic mishaps. The National Safety Council has estimated 35,000 traffic fatalities in 1950.

The New Year's holiday toll on the highways—285—was far below the 345 killed in auto accidents over the Christmas week-end. It also was less than the 330 deaths the Safety Council had estimated for the New Year's holiday period—from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

In addition to the 285 killed in auto accidents, 115 persons lost their lives in a variety of mishaps. These included fires, which accounted for several deaths, plane crashes, falls and other causes.

425 In 1950
The New Year's week-end violent death toll compared to 425 over the three-day period last year, which included 270 in traffic accidents; 54 in fires and 101 from miscellaneous causes. In the two-day 1949 New Year's holiday there were 350 violent deaths, including 207 traffic.

Several accidents which resulted in multiple deaths were reported over the holiday.

A widow and her seven small children perished in a fire which destroyed their three-room farm home near Neesho, Mo. Nine persons were killed in two airplane crashes in California. Four persons were killed and 10 others injured in a head-on crash of an auto and a bus at Saginaw, Mich.

California, Texas and Illinois reported the most violent deaths but there was at least one in each state except Delaware and Nevada.

Search Wainwright House

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 2 (AP)—Burglars who ransacked the swank residence of General Jonathan Wainwright here apparently borrowed some of the famous general's white kid gloves to keep from leaving fingerprints. The gloves were the only belongings missing when Wainwright found every drawer, closet and filing case broken open yesterday and their contents strewn about. His valuable collection of pistols and guns, and pieces of expensive jewelry were not touched. Wainwright told officers he suspected the vandals were trying to find important papers. He added that he kept no such papers in his house and "would be a fool to have any."

Shriners' Ball to Be Held January 22

Names of the committees in charge of the ball will be announced by the Ulster County Shrine Club.

'Home Front' Measure Would Be Used in Event of Attack Upon U. S.

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The 81st Congress sent to the White House today a civilian defense bill giving the government great "home front" powers in event of enemy attack on the United States.

Senate approval by voice vote completed action on the measure and cleared it to President Truman.

It was one of "must" bills the legislators tabbed for action in the final day of this Congress' two-year life span.

The new 82nd Congress, convening at noon (E.S.T.) tomorrow, comes into being amid an acrid controversy over the nation's foreign policy—a controversy already resounding with charges and counter-charges of "isolationist" and internationalist.

Intense Dispute Ahead
The dispute is expected to become intensified in both new Houses. Republican gains in the November elections drew political lines more closely than in the 81st Congress. Sharp cleavage is growing between those who want home front defenses bolstered first, and those who insist the nation must continue to aid its foreign allies.

An unusual New Year's Day meeting of the House cleared the way for President Truman to get most of his major emergency legislation from the dying Congress.

The House has only one major item before it—action on the Senate bill restoring a portion of the old law which would have permitted him to reshuffle executive agencies.

House to Go Along
The House is expected to go along with the rebuff. That and Senate failure to approve Alaska and Hawaii statehood bills are the only major setbacks Mr. Truman suffered during the short post-election session.

The Senate must:
1. Act on a House-approved appropriations bill comprising an additional $20,000,000,000 for defense and related spending. It agreed to limit debate to one hour.

The House accepted a Senate amendment boosting by $224,000,000 the maritime administration's contract authority for construction of speedy cargo ships.

Only One Point
There remains only one point of disagreement between the two Houses—a $1,850,000 item for the Southeastern Power Administration which the House wants, and the Senate does not. The Senate was expected to give in to avoid endangering the entire bill.

2. Pass on a compromise civil defense bill which will (a) set up a new independent civil defense administration and (b) open the way for the federal, state and local governments to move ahead (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7.)

Sparkman Suggests Full Scale Debate On Foreign Policy

Reporters Are Told He Agrees With Dulles; Would Give U. S. Public View

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP)—Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) proposed today a full scale Senate debate on foreign policy to help settle the stalemated controversy over western defense plans.

Sparkman, who served as a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, told reporters he agrees with John Foster Dulles that the United States can never make its defenses impregnable by abandoning Europe and standing alone.

But he added that the issue ought to be discussed in the Senate—"without name calling"—so the country will get a better chance to decide between the views of President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and Dulles on one side and former President Hoover on the other.

Hoover has proposed that the U. S. create a Gibraltar of defense in the western hemisphere and not "land another man or another dollar" in Europe until European nations "erect a sure dam against the Red flood."

Would Ring Soviets
Dulles, on the other hand, said in a New York speech last night that the free world should join in ringing the Soviet orbit with economic, political and military strength.

The G.O.P. foreign affairs adviser to the State Department added that the "only effective defense for us and for others," should the Soviet union decide an open war, "is the capacity to counterattack."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), speaking at Cincinnati, said:

"There is a great lack of confidence in Washington felt throughout the whole country. We are continually wavering between panic and reassurance. One moment we are told that Russia

Dewey Charts Spartan Road For New York

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—Governor Dewey today charted a "Spartan course" of toil and sacrifice for the state to support a national policy of combatting Russian communism on a world-wide front.

In his annual message to the Republican-controlled Legislature which convenes tomorrow, Dewey will blueprint plans to put the state on a war-footing under a new defense council with sweeping emergency powers.

In his third term inaugural yesterday, Dewey condemned isolationist proposals. He said America must develop strong allies and maintain atomic bomb air bases "around the world."

Dewey, who already has served twice as long as any previous Republican governor of New York, was formally sworn in for his third four-year term in colorful but solemn ceremonies yesterday.

Speaking "under the shadow of war," Dewey sounded a grim keynote.

"In this unparalleled crisis," he said, "there is only one course for free men and women."

"There is only one road to survival. That is the road of hard-headed realism, of toil and more toil, of sacrifice and greater sacrifice."

Free World Leads
The twice-defeated Republican candidate for President said the free world's resources "vastly exceed" those of the slave world and added:

"There is no weakness of our cause which courage, hard labor and strong leadership cannot cure. The physical resources to preserve freedom and even, perhaps, to save the peace are at hand. Only the will, the courage and the clear purpose are needed."

Dewey said that "others will again rally to our cause" if the United States provides leadership "in sacrifice, in hard work and in building overwhelming military force."

After he received the oath of office from Chief Judge John T. Loughran of Kingston, of the State Court of Appeals, Dewey told 1,500 dignitaries and spectators in the assembly chamber:

"If as a nation we continue our present course of self-indulgence, weakness and vacillation, we shall have no one but ourselves to blame for the loss of our liberties and our national existence."

Urges New Yorkers
He urged New Yorkers to "lay aside partisanship and selfishness" and to set an example for the nation in "self-denial and in hard work for the greater good."

MacArthur Headquarters Quotes North Korea's Boss as Saying War Efforts Are Supported by Seven Nations

Tokyo, Jan. 2 (AP)—Vanguards of six Chinese Communist armies carved out a menacing salient today in Western Korea within 17 air miles of Seoul.

Outnumbered United Nations forces, after retreating up to 11 miles in zero weather, manned new defense lines and awaited the next onslaught. It was expected in a few days.

The deepest enemy penetration was pinpointed by General MacArthur's headquarters Tuesday as six miles south of Tongduchon. That forward position is 17 miles from the virtually deserted capital on a road leading north through Uijongbu.

The Reds were only five miles from Uijongbu, the key to Seoul. MacArthur's headquarters quoted North Korea's dictator as boasting in a broadcast that his war efforts have "support and sympathy" of Red China, Russia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Poland.

MacArthur said Kim Il Sung's statement indicated clearly "the general character of this war." The allied pullback in South Korea before at least 42 enemy divisions was so swift that contact was lost with the main Red forces. There was little ground fighting listed in field reports Tuesday.

Thousands of Communist dead littered the frozen and rugged battlefield.

All-Out Attack
MacArthur's headquarters called their New Year's assault an all-out attack "pressed by the enemy with complete disregard for his losses, which have been extremely heavy."

The first suicidal waves hurled themselves on land mines, exploding them. Then succeeding waves climbed over their bodies. Other advance waves formed human bridges over barbed wire entanglements.

Allied planes of all categories took a heavy enemy toll. Ground observers estimated that 6,000 Red casualties were inflicted Monday by air action alone.

Pilots of one group of F-80 Shooting Star jets said they annihilated an entire company of Communists six miles east of Korangpo. That is 28 miles north of Seoul.

Attacks Cause Retreat
Fliers of navy Skyraider bombers from the U. S. aircraft carrier Valley Forge reported their deadly low level attacks forced Red troops to retreat from a ridge six miles south of Hwachon. That is 50 miles northeast of Seoul.

The Communist wedge drive into the west flank was described in a field dispatch by A.P. Correspondent John Randolph as amounting to "a major pullback and a big sag in the defense line across South Korea."

MacArthur's headquarters said that, in addition to the thrust south of Tongduchon, Red forces had penetrated to nine miles northwest of Uijongbu and to Kappong. The penetration north-west of Uijongbu is within 20 miles of Seoul. That to Kappong is at a point 35 miles northeast of Seoul.

General's Burial Is Scheduled for Walton H. Walker

Dead Officer Will Lie Near Pershing; High Dignitaries Plan to Attend

Washington, Jan. 2 (AP)—The army in which Walton Harrison Walker fought gallantly in three wars made ready a general's burial for him today.

As the gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery they chose for the late commander of the 8th Army in Korea a spot not far from that of General John J. Pershing. Decorated many times by his own and other governments for gallantry and leadership in two world wars and described by President Truman as a brilliant military commander of "indomitable courage" in the new war in Asia, Walker was killed in a motor mishap in Korea.

While going up to the lines to present decorations to two units of his 8th Army command—the U. S. 24th Infantry Division and a British Commonwealth brigade—Walker's jeep collided with a South Korean weapons carrier on Dec. 23. He died within a few minutes.

Letters to House, Senate
Mr. Truman on Friday sent letters to the House and Senate asking that he be promoted, posthumously, from the three-star rank of lieutenant general to the full rank of four-star general. His outstanding accomplishments as 8th Army commander "fully entitle him to this recognition," Mr. Truman wrote. The House passed the bill yesterday.

Among the friends of Walker who were asked to serve as honorary pallbearers at his funeral were Secretary of Defense Marshall, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Ceriously, the lieutenant general's three-star insignia which Walker wore in Korea was worn first by Eisenhower when he held that rank early in World War 2. Then when the late George Patton advanced to that rank, Eisenhower gave the stars to him. Patton later passed them on to Walker.

Wicks Says Bianchi Faces Minority Seating in Senate

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—William J. Bianchi, Republican-American Labor Party state senator, faces political "quarantine" when the Senate convenes tomorrow.

The Manhattan lawyer, an enrolled Republican, accepted A.L.P. endorsement last fall, after he had pledged that he wouldn't.

The Republican majority leader, Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, and William L. Pfeiffer, state G.O.P. chairman, told newsmen yesterday that Bianchi would be seated but not as Republican.

Wicks said Bianchi would not be invited to or permitted to attend Republican caucuses or conferences.

He added that the 37-year-old Bianchi would be designated officially "as a Republican-A.L.P." Pfeiffer said "I do not recognize

Council to Meet

Aldermen Will Consider '51 Recommendations at Session

A $240 cost of living bonus for municipal employees has been provided in this year's city budget, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said in his New Year's message to the common council.

In his address to the aldermen and an assemblage of citizens present in the city hall Monday morning, the Mayor said, "City employees, like the rest of us, have the responsibility to provide the necessities of life for their families . . . we must face the fact that inflation is with us, and in a big way."

"To fail to keep their wages on a level with prices would be equivalent to imposing on them a wage reduction. That would be unjust and discriminatory."

The proposed tax rate is $48.54 per thousand, an increase of $5.44 over last year. More than $3 of that increase is caused by the hike in the county budget, the city's share of which has increased by about $100,000, the Mayor said.

For Regular Employees
The mayor urged recommendation by the Common Council of the $240 bonus for all regular employees of the police, fire and public works departments and employees under jurisdiction of the council. The council will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Referring to a previous recommendation of a five per cent bonus the mayor said a study of price indices revealed it was inadequate because of "national wage patterns and the pressure of the war preparedness program upon our national economy."

Not for Elected Personnel
The $240 cost of living bonus, however, does not apply to elected officials, appointive officers or employees of the Kingston Laboratory.

The mayor said that in preparing his tentative budget, he considered that it was the "duty and responsibility of every official and employee to do everything in his power to furnish and maintain public service without waste or extravagance and at the lowest cost possible."

Mayor Newkirk's message in full is as follows:

"I appear before you today in one of the most critical moments in our nation's history. Great masses of the world's population are arrayed against us. Our liberty and freedom, and, in fact our national existence, is threatened by a powerful foe which strives to destroy us. No one can predict what tomorrow will bring, or how dark and dangerous are the days that lie ahead."

"We can be certain of only one thing. We will survive only if we work together on all fronts for the common good. Complete cooperation on the home front is as vital to national survival as it is on the military front."

"This is neither the time nor the place to fix the responsibility for the tragic plight in which this nation finds itself today after our victory in World War 2. Regardless who is to blame, the critical hour is now here. We shall be called upon to sacrifice convenience, comfort and profit for the common good, and to endure hardships and suffering. For unless we maintain our continuity as a free, independent nation, we shall have nothing as individuals."

"To pay for the staggering costs of the defense programs advocated by the President, we will be called upon to pay a much greater portion of our income in federal taxes."

Must Save Taxpayers
It is therefore the duty and responsibility of every state and local governmental official and employee to do everything in his or her power to furnish and maintain public service, without waste or extravagance, and at the lowest cost possible."

In preparing the tentative budget for 1951, I have been guided by that principle. However, I must confess that it is impos-

Baby Dies of Injuries From Crash

Nine-month-old Gilbert W. Norton died of injuries sustained when the above automobile in which he was riding became involved in a three-vehicle collision Saturday morning on Route 9W near Lake Katrine. The baby died the day after the accident after he had been transferred to Albany General Hospital. He became the 32nd person to meet death on highways in Ulster county in 1950. The baby's father, John Norton, 25, and grandmother, Mrs. Ada Norton, 45, of 70 Green street, are in "serious" condition at Kingston Hospital as a result of the crash. Mrs. Gloria Norton, 24, and Miss Shirley Norton, 19, are both reported as "fairly good" at the hospital. Troopers said the Norton car skidded, was struck by the trailer truck that can be seen in the picture, then spun around and was struck by a third vehicle. (Wagon-John Photo)

Opponents Open With Accusations; Peace Calls Heard

Bickering Follows Quickly on Heels of New Year Celebrations All Over World

(By The Associated Press)
The New Year's holiday was over today but 1951 dawned with a throbbing international hang-over.

The shouting of "Happy New Year" had subsided. The paper hats were in the trash cans, and the champagne buckets were back in the cupboards. The world went back to work today.

It was all over—all but the shooting.

Heralding the new year and a new all-out Communist offensive, the big guns boomed away in Korea yesterday. Their echo resounded throughout the aching world.

Calls for peace in 1951 came from officials on both sides of the Iron Curtain, but the opponents pointed accusing fingers at each other as the cause for stimulating the global war ulcer.

President Truman, aboard his yacht Williamsburg, expressed the desire of all Americans that "1951 will bring peace to the world."

However, a wary lame-duck House of Representatives, under pressure of "must" legislation, began 1951 by meeting on New Year's Day for the first time in its history.

Urges More Sacrifices
In Europe, French Premier Rene Pleven urged his countrymen to make more sacrifices for rearmament during 1951 in "the interests of peace."

To the east, Communist Czech Premier Klement Gottwald also prodded his countrymen. He told them to increase their vigilance in the new year against spies, saboteurs and murderers incited (Continued on Page 11, Col. 5)

His outstanding accomplishments as 8th Army commander "fully entitle him to this recognition," Mr. Truman wrote. The House passed the bill yesterday.

Among the friends of Walker who were asked to serve as honorary pallbearers at his funeral were Secretary of Defense Marshall, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Curiously, the lieutenant general's three-star insignia which Walker wore in Korea was worn first by Eisenhower when he held that rank early in World War 2. Then when the late George Patton advanced to that rank, Eisenhower gave the stars to him. Patton later passed them on to Walker.

Peter Francis Mills First Baby of 1951

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mills of 86 West Pierpont street are the parents of the first baby born in 1951 in a local hospital.

The baby, a boy, was born at 1:37 a. m. Monday at the Benedictine Hospital. The mother told hospital attendants the boy will be named Peter Francis.

Dr. B. J. Datto was the attending physician. Complete cooperation on the home front is as vital to national survival as it is on the military front.

This is neither the time nor the place to fix the responsibility for the tragic plight in which this nation finds itself today after our victory in World War 2. Regardless who is to blame, the critical hour is now here. We shall be called upon to sacrifice convenience, comfort and profit for the common good, and to endure hardships and suffering. For unless we maintain our continuity as a free, independent nation, we shall have nothing as individuals.

To pay for the staggering costs of the defense programs advocated by the President, we will be called upon to pay a much greater portion of our income in federal taxes.

Must Save Taxpayers
It is therefore the duty and responsibility of every state and local governmental official and employee to do everything in his or her power to furnish and maintain public service, without waste or extravagance, and at the lowest cost possible.

In preparing the tentative budget for 1951, I have been guided by that principle. However, I must confess that it is impos- (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1) him (Bianchi) as a Republican. During the campaign I repudiated him, as you know. My repudiation stands."

Without Bianchi the Republicans have 32 seats in the Senate. Twenty-nine seats are needed for control.

Bianchi defeated Senator Alfred E. Santangelo, Democrat, last Nov. 7, in the 22nd Senatorial District which is largely within the Congressional district of defeat Rep. Vito Marcantonio, state A.L.P. chairman.

Bianchi was first nominated by the Republicans. He later accepted the nomination of the A.L.P. in defiance of the declared policy of the Republican party and despite his signed pledge that he would not accept support from the A.L.P.

Wicks Says Bianchi Faces Minority Seating in Senate

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—William J. Bianchi, Republican-American Labor Party state senator, faces political "quarantine" when the Senate convenes tomorrow.

The Manhattan lawyer, an enrolled Republican, accepted A.L.P. endorsement last fall, after he had pledged that he wouldn't.

The Republican majority leader, Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, and William L. Pfeiffer, state G.O.P. chairman, told newsmen yesterday that Bianchi would be seated but not as Republican.

Wicks said Bianchi would not be invited to or permitted to attend Republican caucuses or conferences.

He added that the 37-year-old Bianchi would be designated officially "as a Republican-A.L.P." Pfeiffer said "I do not recognize (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Baby Dies of Injuries From Crash

Nine-month-old Gilbert W. Norton died of injuries sustained when the above automobile in which he was riding became involved in a three-vehicle collision Saturday morning on Route 9W near Lake Katrine. The baby died the day after the accident after he had been transferred to Albany General Hospital. He became the 32nd person to meet death on highways in Ulster county in 1950. The baby's father, John Norton, 25, and grandmother, Mrs. Ada Norton, 45, of 70 Green street, are in "serious" condition at Kingston Hospital as a result of the crash. Mrs. Gloria Norton, 24, and Miss Shirley Norton, 19, are both reported as "fairly good" at the hospital. Troopers said the Norton car skidded, was struck by the trailer truck that can be seen in the picture, then spun around and was struck by a third vehicle. (Wagon/ohr Photo)

Kingston Firemen Answer Two Calls

The Kingston Fire Department answered two calls over the holiday week-end, both for misbehaving oil burners.

At 4:50 p. m. Saturday an oil fired furnace at the New York Telephone Company garage at 81 Bruyn avenue blew back, causing the doors to blow open and resulting in some fire damage, firemen said. No extinguishing agent was necessary as the fire did not spread from the furnace.

An oil burning kitchen range on the second floor of the apartment building at 11 Broadway, the former Mansion House, went out of adjustment at 1:20 p. m. Sunday and was extinguished with dry powder, firemen said.

Plans for Expressway Connection to Be Drawn

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—Plans will be mapped soon for an expressway connection between the New York State Thruway and the New Jersey State Thruway.

The connecting link, through Rockland county in New York and northern New Jersey, will be discussed at a meeting this month of Thruway and Turnpike Authority members.

The New York State Thruway will cross the Hudson river at South Nyack and run northward roughly parallel with the river.

The connecting expressway with the Jersey Turnpike will tie in with the Thruway near the Hudson span. It will extend into northern New Jersey and connect with the northern end of the Jersey Turnpike.

The Turnpike and Thruway are now under construction. The Thruway will extend from New York city to Albany, west to Buffalo and southwest to the Pennsylvania border, near Dunkirk.

The Jersey Turnpike will extend from a point near the George Washington Bridge on the north to the Delaware river Memorial Bridge on the south.

Wicks Says

diated Bianchi. The Republicans started court action to have Bianchi ruled off the ballot, but the court held it did not have jurisdiction.

Santangelo recently was reported to be planning a move to have the Senate refuse to seat Bianchi on the ground of fraud.

"All the allegations by Santangelo transpired before Bianchi's election. In spite of the allegations, people voted for him, so he's entitled to his seat."

Wicks added that Bianchi, in accordance with Senate custom, was entitled to appointment to committees. But Wicks made it apparent that no important committee assignments were in store for Bianchi.

As a member of the minority in the Senate, Bianchi will be entitled to only a clerk or stenographer. As a member of the majority he would have been entitled to both.

Pfeiffer said Bianchi "violated the code that no Republican accept A.L.P. endorsement," and that he also violated "party ethics and his written word."

Bianchi, accompanied by his wife, attended the third term inauguration of Governor Dewey.

He told reporters he had been an enrolled Republican for the last 10 years and that he would oppose any move to deny him his seat.

Prisoners Released

Uijongbu, Korea, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Chinese Reds released three American prisoners today on the road several miles north of Uijongbu. All are members of the U. S. 24th Division. Master Sgt. Charles Clark, Chattanooga, Tenn., said one of the men was suffering from bullet wound in the right shoulder and another from exposure and shock. All three were sent to a forward aid station for treatment. Their names were withheld.

Deaths Reach 79

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—The death toll of the Long Island Railroad's Thanksgiving Eve wreck has risen to 79 with the death of William S. Jones, 56, of Elmont, L. I. Jones died of his injuries in Flushing Hospital last Saturday.

Delegates Worry Over Pakistan at Anglo Conference

London, Jan. 2 (AP)—Delegates to Britain's Commonwealth defense conference openly worried today over Pakistan's threat to boycott the parley unless her dispute with India over Kashmir is placed on the agenda.

It was announced in Karachi that Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan is delaying his departure for London for at least a day or two, presumably until he receives a reply from Prime Minister Attlee as to whether the Kashmir issue will be docketed. The delay apparently will prevent his attending the conference's opening session Thursday.

Britain is reliably reported to oppose any discussion of the status of Kashmir, where forces of Moslem Pakistan and Hindu India have been facing each other since fighting broke out in 1948. A cease-fire has been in force while the United Nations sought agreement on a plebiscite.

Officials of the nine Commonwealth nations invited to take part in the talks observed that if Pakistan does boycott the conference, it would be the first such rift on record in the British family of nations.

Would Create Precedent

On the other hand, these officials feel that acceptance of the Pakistani demand would create a dangerous precedent.

India then could demand that she be allowed to bring formal complaint against South Africa over the treatment of Indians there. South Africa, in turn, could call for a discussion of her claims to three British-ruled protectorates in Africa, which Britain does not want to lose.

Britain is expected, however, to try hard to effect an Indian-Pakistan reconciliation. She wants both countries to combine their strength to resist the spread of Chinese Communist influence throughout Asia.

Britain feels Asian nations should lead their own fight against communism in that part of the world, but she realizes that if they get side-tracked by other squabbles, all Asia will be dangerously exposed to the Red menace.

The main aim of the Commonwealth conference will be to dovetail the individual and joint defense plans of the member nations with those of the Atlantic pact allies.

Bronxville Woman Killed

Scituate, R. I., Jan. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothea H. Collins, 46, was killed instantly Sunday night when she fell from a skidding car operated by her husband, John T. Collins, 47, of 13 Westway, Bronxville, N. Y., on the old Hartford Turnpike. Lt. Lawrence Sullivan of state police said Mrs. Collins was crushed beneath the car when its skid sent the car sliding down a 15-foot embankment, landing on top of her at the bottom of the incline. Her husband was uninjured and the car was damaged only slightly. Mr. and Mrs. Collins were returning to New York after visiting their son, Brother Stephen Collins, a monk at the Portsmouth Priory, near Newport.

You'll Be Sorry If You Miss This Silly Sale

YOU'D THINK A GUY LIKE ME DEALING IN DRUG STORE MERCHANDISE WOULD HAVE MORE SENSE THAN TO BUY THESE CATS AND DOGS. SO COME AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ME—I'M NOT PERFECT

I don't understand what I was thinking about when I bought some of these orphans. Believe me I've caught Hell from Bill, Louise, Mrs. K., and rest of the crew. I am barred from going on any more buying sprees, but I've got to move this junk to make way for new merchandise, so come and carry it away. We have on display lots of small pickup items that you might even steal, but if you get caught shoplifting the rules are "you pay double."

LIP STICKS EVERY SHADE BUT YELLOW

They change the fashion colors on lip sticks so often and fast they always leave you holding the bag. And keepin' up with the new shades is driving me crazy. I know without looking I have every shade but yellow. Priced at $1.00 but I'll take 35¢ or 3 for a dollar. One for me, one for you and one for sister Annie. You won't make me mad if you take a handful 'cause I got 132 to sell at this price. You can't fool me much on lip sticks 'cause I've been smeared too often, or you can't fool me much 'cause I'm too ignorant. You buy a new shade and sell out at $1.20. Wire for some more of the same and by the time you get 'em, there's a brand new shade out that everyone is taking for, so it's a vicious circle, as this goes on and on and some of the damndest names, but they're all red, just different shades, purty red, purty cheap and all shades guaranteed Kissable.

RECENT MARKET REPORT SHOWS BIG ADVANCE IN RUBBER

Old Bags—hot water bottles that is, make wonderful bed fellows when nights are cold and the snow is flying. Special price for this ole bed fellow, good for many a night 79¢. They come much fancier than these but they cost more money.

I also have a few fountain syringes at the same price.

KEEN BARGAIN LIMITED SUPPLY

When you tell people you only have a few then your merchandise moves, but I can't lie very good 'cause I got tons of this junk. I have the world's only automatic blade changer. A brand new Schick Razor with blades. These blades are not HONED gentlemen but STRONED, if you know what that means. If you never have shaved we can set you up in business with razor and blades for 39¢, far less than the price of the blades alone. If you have shaved before you're SHARP enough to know this is a bargain at these CUTTING low prices. Look STRONED, BE HONED, with the sharpest BARGAIN you ever OWNED, not $4.00 but 39¢.

You can't shave unless you have shaving cream so we priced it at 29¢.

POWDER? FACE—BUG—GUN

We got a stack of this stuff. Mostly Talcum and Body Powder. No difference only it makes you carry two items instead of one. Just shows how a guy's slogan, "We have it, we will get it or it isn't made" will get him in dutch. How any one drug store or any one guy in his right mind could accumulate so many is beyond me. Anyway many of them are nationally advertised. SNEEK in and get a couple 'cause they'll sure make you smell purty when you don't have time to take a bath. Not good as gifts but good for you and priced as low as 2 bits.

DO YOU HAVE ANY ELEPHANTS TO WASH?

We have enough soap on hand to supply a circus for umteen years. We have over a jillion different brands of soap and this is one item you can't get gyped on 'cause soap's soap no matter in what shape or in Johnnie's mouth. If you can't find a soap priced to fit your budget, pick one out and we will give it to you. Nothing like good clean customers.

SVIRSKY ASKS FOR HELP

Some time ago I bought some Don Juan Double Edge Razor Blades. In order to have them exclusive, I had to buy 1000 packages, 5 blades in a package and regular retail price is 25¢. You can have as many as you want at 7¢-less than 2¢ a blade. Guaranteed to cut your throat—and if you don't buy any—I'll cut mine.

OOO LA LA

Here's a hot item—75¢ Evening in Paris and Mals Qui Perfume or Toilet Water 47¢ each. Buy several and you'll know what it's like to spend an "Evening in Paris"

SVIRSKY TRIES TO CORNER COSMETIC MARKET

And I think I did a good job—and it's your good fortune—just look at these prices—$4.50 Cor-days Fame, Tzigne, Toujours Mols Toilet Water and Perfume. Ensemble $2.95. . . $1.00 Chen Yu Mani Kits, polish, cuticle remover and polish remover, all for 44¢. . . D'Orsay $1.00. Cherry Blossom Bubble Bath or Cologne 47¢. . . Talcum 26¢. . . Houbigant, Gardenia, Wistaria or Honey-suckle Soap and Toilet Water Sets, regularly $1.50, now 96¢. . . $1.50 Friendship Garden Bath Soap 99¢. . . $1.00 Bourjois "Waves of Fragrance" 61¢. . . $1.25 "Follow Me" Toilet Water 77¢.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

The $2.00 for $1.00 Special of Mavis All Weather Lotion is yours for 33¢ — and I didn't steal it either.

DO YOU HAVE ALL YOUR TEETH

If so, you can afford to have a Tooth Brush for each tooth. 29¢ Pro-phy-lac-tic Tooth Brush 15¢. Buy several.

FOLLOW OUR PLAN AND NEVER BE EMBARRASSED BY BEIN' BUSTED

I think I was thinkin' about a chain of United Cut Rate stores when I bought these banks instead of just one store.

Bubble banks that really contain money. Boy I sure thought I had a bunch of thrifty customers and thought I had a hot item be-

GEE, IF I ONLY HAD SOME HAIR!

I've got a terrific batch of Nylon Hair Brushes in stock. Made to sell for $3.50, I sold a few for $1.98 and there's all yours for $1.45. If you had a head of hair like mine, you can buy a brush for every strand of hair.

WHY WE ARE NOT ALL PERFECT

Harriet H. Ayer makes mistakes just as we all do. They have a hand cream, and it's an excellent one, too, produced to sell for $2.50 but they don't even sell it for $1.50 so we are "giving" it away to you for only $1.00 a jar. Buy a few jars now as it looks like the snow shovel is going to cause plenty of chapped hands.

NEED A PIPE?

I have a few Imported Briar Pipes on hand that we were selling for $2.50 per. Only two to a customer for 88¢.

OUT OF THE RED

You'll keep out of the red with this Fountain Pen. It's a $1.00 Stratford and we are selling them red for 63¢. If you going to use red ink the price is double.

FOLLOW OUR PLAN AND NEVER BE EMBARRASSED BY BEIN' BUSTED

I think I was thinkin' about a chain of United Cut Rate stores when I bought these banks instead of just one store.

Bubble banks that really contain money. Boy I sure thought I had a bunch of thrifty customers and thought I had a hot item be-

DOROTHY GRAY 1/2 OFF

I'm half off for letting some sharp wise heimer let me have so many. The merchandise is all good but golly, I got so many we stumble over Dorothy Gray Salon Cold Cream, Cleansing Cream, Blustery Weather Lotion, Special Dry Skin Lotion and Special Dry Mixture. The $2.00 size jar only $1.00. All 1/2 price while they last and more than one to a customer.

GOING UP ???

A real sharp shooter came in one day. "George," he says, "the price of Boric Acid and Epsom Salts is going up—why don't you put some in stock?" So I did—what happens—everything else goes up—so here's where you come in. 1-Pound Epsom Salts 14¢; 1-Pound Boric Acid Powder 19¢.

TAKE A CHANCE

And you really are, Sister, if you buy some H. H. Ayer's "Golden Chance" Perfume. Regularly $1.50 for this sale only 99¢. It's really not too bad, as we sold a flock of it for $1.50.

NO BARGAINS HERE

Please note that we have no bargains on internal or children's remedies. We don't believe you can find cheap medicine for you and your dear ones. I promise that if any of these internal remedies go bad, I'll throw them away and replace same with fresh merchandise. Nothing will stand in my way to maintain the finest pharmacy in the Hudson Valley for our community.

DO IT IN KINGSTON TRADE IN KINGSTON

Some people we know just seem to radiate with friendship and personality. No one really gets to know cold indifferent people. All Kingston merchants are very much concerned with both types of people, in making them friends, improving their own service and creating a warmer, more friendly attitude. You'd be surprised of all the advantages Kingston merchants offer to shoppers, and the wide selection of merchandise. It's easy to shop in Kingston too, because the stores are closer to gether. WHAT A SALESMAN!

And that's the fellow working for the Woodbury Company. He sold me so much cold cream I'm going to send them a bill for warehousing. My shoulders are breaking, so you can have the 83¢ size for 44¢. Please buy at least 1 jar—save some money and help me get rid of the junk.

SOMETHING FOR JUNIOR

I don't know what happened here but we certainly are loaded with Mennen's Baby Powder with the rattle. It's a 50¢ number but you can have it for 35¢.

FLEA TROUBLE?

If you are having a little trouble with fleas on your dog—I have just the "thing." Hilo Rotenone Flea Powder, 50¢ size for 31¢.

MYTH OF SOVEREIGNTY

One of the things which continues to hamper attempts to organize the nations for peace and order is the jealousy of national sovereignty. Individual nations have an inclination to act as individuals sometimes simply to prove that they are sovereign. Efforts to form a federation in Europe, to clothe the United Nations with real authority and to give force to international courts are held back because people of the various nations, including our own, keep saying that we must not give up our sovereignty.

Yet sovereignty is little more than a myth in the field of international relations. A sovereign nation, by definition, is one which is not dependent on nor limited by any other, and which can make war or peace by its own decision. What nation in the world today is really sovereign?

We believe the United States to be the strongest nation in the world today; certainly we and our forefathers have fiercely regarded this as a sovereign nation for the past century and a half. Yet we are very much limited by things which have been done, and yet may be done, by a little puppet government in Korea, by a revolutionary regime in China, by the policies of the Soviet Union. Perhaps we can make war by our own decision, but it is far from certain that we can individually make peace. We know, too, that many domestic matters are determined by what other powers in the world do—prices of things we buy, what we do with our tax money, whether a lad goes to school or to the military service.

We could have most, perhaps all of the international organization needed to prevent war, without giving up any sovereignty that we have in actuality. For the course of history already has taken away much of what we thought we possessed.

ON LOYALTY OATHS

The law is supposed to be a deliberate profession. The length of time involved in getting a legal point settled often taxes the patience of laymen. It is surprising, therefore, to get an intimation that the national body of attorneys, the American Bar Association, apparently adopted a far-reaching recommendation without stopping to consider what it might involve. This was its resolution, accepted without debate at the fall convention, requiring repeated anti-Communist oaths from all members of the bar.

A body of distinguished and conservative lawyers now asserts that this action was a mistake. Former Justice Owen J. Roberts of the United States Supreme Court heads the group, which includes three former presidents of the American Bar Association. Among these is John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, attorney for J. P. Morgan and Co., and an opponent of the New Deal.

This oath business, the Roberts group maintains, violates "the American tradition that suspicion of disloyalty shall not be cast upon an entire class or profession upon the chance of catching a few random delinquents." If there are Communists among the lawyers, they would probably not hesitate to swear falsely that they are not Reds; and little would be gained.

The American Bar Association might find it wise to take the question up again at its next convention, and thrash out the pros and cons.

HEALTH AND WEALTH

One of the hopeful fields of activity of the United Nations is that of improving health, and the World Health Organization already has achieved some concrete results. Yet discussions at a recent Middle East symposium on tropical diseases indicated that this group, like others which have tackled health problems, is already up against the interrelation between health and wealth.

The health of a people, its economic conditions and its social conditions are interdependent. It often seems obvious that economic conditions would be better if health could be improved, or vice versa. Yet one cannot be attained simply by striving for the

THE KOREAN AFFAIR

Many phases of our military and political defeat in Korea are puzzling. Therefore, I am trying to piece as much of it together as the data thus far warrants.

We need, first of all, to review a man and a history. General Douglas MacArthur is our most brilliant commander and the greatest administrator of conquered territory. After all, he commanded our fight back against Japan, and even those who do not like his personality admit his genius in the war against Japan, which he won with only Nationalist China as an effective ally and with a shortage of supplies.

In September, all the free countries applauded his masterly stroke against Inchon and his capable maneuvers which broke the back of Soviet Korea. But there is more to MacArthur than that. His administration of Japan has been the surprise of the world, for he took an antagonistic and humiliated nation, raised its spirit, restored its industries, re-oriented its people, won their friendship. So competently was this done that he could withdraw all our troops from Japan, send them into Korea, without an uprising in Japan. This is no mean achievement under any circumstances.

There has been some criticism of General MacArthur's isolation from information and his dependence upon Major General C. A. Willoughby, his intelligence officer. General Willoughby is no novice. He has now been stationed in the Far East for 12 years. Concentration upon the affairs of China, Japan, Russia and the Philippines gives him a broad perspective and detailed knowledge.

For some reason, Drew Pearson and the Alsop brothers dislike General Willoughby and attack him with regularity. Drew Pearson has no direct or prolonged familiarity with any Far Eastern country. One of the Alsops has had some short periods there. Few Americans possess a more intimate knowledge of the Far East than General Willoughby.

The facts then comes to the so-called "colossal blunder" of November 24. Again, we have to go back to General MacArthur's program. He believed:

1. That we should hold the Japan-Korea-Philippines-Formosa perimeter, strengthening it so that it could be used should Russia attack. This was rejected by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

2. He favored support of Chiang Kai-shek's efforts on the mainland of China, which would have occupied a large part of Mao Tse-tung's Communist army so that it would not be free for expeditions into Korea, Burma, French Indo-China and Tibet. This was rejected by the State Department, even after Congress voted for it.

3. MacArthur and most of our military men opposed the employment of ground forces in Korea, expecting that the air force and the navy could do a better job. The final instructions for June 25 ordered an unready and ill-supplied token ground force to go into Korea.

4. In the Korean war, he was eminently successful, breaking the Soviet Korean forces and taking more than 100,000 prisoners of war.

This is a summary of the situation up to November 24, when MacArthur faced an estimated potential of 30 divisions of Soviet Chinese troops out of Manchuria, ranged along the Yalu. He was, however, effectively muzzled by orders from Washington attributed to the United Nations. He was ordered to make no investigations west of the Yalu River.

He faced a new war, a new enemy, a new situation, but was not permitted to find out what it was. Washington and the United Nations refused to face facts. He was not permitted to investigate the political situation on the other side of the Yalu. He was not permitted to send planes across the river to discover the size and character and operations of the enemy. He was ordered to fight blindfolded.

In such circumstances, he was engaged in what I am told (I am not expert) is an ordinary maneuver in war, namely a "feigned retreat" in force to get prisoners, documents and identifications. That battle occurred between November 24 and 28, after which he retreated in the face of a numerically superior enemy. The retreat was orderly and I am told that the losses amounted to within one per cent per day, which is what the staff manuals say is permissible. An admirer of General MacArthur told me:

"Such statistics neither spell blunder, nor disaster, nor decimated units—they merely spell a new war, a new enemy and a new maneuver." (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DON'T WASTE HEART RESERVE

Many of us think that the organisms or germs that cause diseases in the body are in the air and we breathe them into our bodies. This is true, but what we forget is that some of these germs are already in our bodies, doing little or no harm because our fighting forces (our resistance) is strong enough to prevent them getting a hold in our bodies.

However, when you are tired, or the weather is damp, hot or cold, then these organisms already in the body begin to give trouble, particularly if a lot of these organisms are about in the outdoor air also.

Generally speaking, you may have a good body and you or your forefathers have had a number of common diseases that built them, and then you, a good resistance to the organisms of disease. However, whether your resistance is strong enough to fight off the disease or give it such a good fight that your recover depends upon your heart, often just the muscular power of your heart. If your heart has enough reserve power, you successfully fight off the disease and recover. If your heart reserve has been lowered by some slight infection, by lack of sleep or poor nourishment, or you keep on your feet during an illness when you should be resting, then you may not pull through.

During the flu epidemic of 1918-1919, the papers stated that this ailment attacked the strong and vigorous in a more deadly manner than it did those who were of poor physique.

Why did the strong individuals die? It was because they were strong and did not keel over or go immediately to bed when first attacked, and kept on their feet for two, three or more days before they finally went, or were put, to bed.

This was the reason so many of them died. They used up much of their heart reserve at a time when the heart was already fighting a hard battle and needed to build up reserve power, instead of spending or using it.

Remember, the heart does from three to five times as much work when you are walking about as it does when you are lying quietly in bed. On the other hand, an individual who is not very strong and has to go to bed sooner than the stronger one has a better chance than a "he-man" who refuses to go to bed. It's the heart that has to do the fighting.

Ambassador to Spain
President Truman is notorious for disliking to confirm a Drew Pearson scoop. He has even been known to shift important job appointments to thwart one of Pearson's predictions. Perhaps that was why he waited until December 27 to confirm the Pearson story of November 26 that Stanton Griffiths would be made ambassador to Spain.

It was one month ago that Pearson told how Griffiths, in handing in his resignation as ambassador to Argentina, asked Truman to be appointed to France. At that time Truman promised to send Griffiths to Spain instead.

Washington—Every nickel of the $3,000,000,000 we have spent on atom and H-bomb development in the last four years is paying defense dividends, Gordon Dean, aggressive young boss of the Atomic Energy Commission, recently told the House Appropriations Committee.

"The country is certainly entitled to know whether this money has been well spent or poorly spent," Dean declared behind closed doors. "I can assure you from where I sit that, as far as bombs are concerned, this country is in a strong position. That does not mean we are relaxed."

"What John Q. Public has in the back of his mind is what has happened to that $3,000,000,000 plus you have had in the last four years—all peacetime years," prompted Rep. Albert Thomas of Texas.

"I am one of John Q. Public and I wondered about the program before I came to the commission," replied Dean. "I wondered 'How strong are we?' and I can say, as one who has come into the program, that we are in strong position—well ahead of Russia."

He has too many senatorial friends for whom he has done favors.

His Neck Was Out
One of the men behind the headlines quietly left the government last week—Steve Leo, the press wizard who masterminded Stuart Symington's public relations.

Though Leo expertly kept himself out of the headlines, he is well known behind the scenes as the man who kept up a clamor for a stronger air force against the opposition of two secretaries of defense and President Truman himself. Leo spoke through his boss, Symington, yet—by a miracle of public relations—he kept Symington in good graces of the White House.

During the air force-navy feud, Leo guided air force strategy so effectively that Secretary of Defense Forrestal tried to hire him away from the air force and later Secretary of Defense Johnson largely blamed Leo for his ouster. Actually all Leo did was give the public the facts. He had such a rare zeal for the truth that he was one of the few press chiefs who would admit mistakes made by his boss.

Bad Lead Put Joe Out of Business

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
"Sometimes I'm glad when all of the cards are badly placed," said Hard Luck Joe. "Then there's no possibility that I could have guessed right and played the hand some other way."

Joe was referring to the hand he had just played. He was sure that all of the cards were wrong for him, but his partner had a different opinion.

West opened the jack of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Joe next took the ace and king of spades, exhausting trumps. Crossing his fingers for good luck, Joe then led a diamond from dummy and played the king from his own hand.

This was not Joe's lucky day. (Naturally enough, for Joe claims he never has one.) West took the ace and queen of diamonds and shifted back to clubs. Declarer went through the motions of trying for some fanciful sort of squeeze, but it was all pure moonshine. He had already lost two diamonds and a club, and he was bound to lose a heart eventually. The contract was therefore set one trick.

Do you think Joe was unlucky, or do you see his mistake? Decide for yourself before you read on.

Joe was not unlucky, for he could have made his contract by playing it properly. His mistake occurred in the play of the diamonds.

The right way to play the diamonds in his hand is to lead a low diamond from the South hand towards dummy's jack.

If West has the queen of diamonds, he must play it once—no matter who has the ace of diamonds. Otherwise the jack of diamonds will either win at once or else will force out the ace.

Assuming that West plays the queen of diamonds on the first round of the suit, the defenders can do no better than cash one club and then knock out the king of hearts. The jack of diamonds is next led from dummy, forcing out the ace. When the defenders promptly knock out the ace of hearts (best defense), South cashes the king of diamonds to discard dummy's losing heart.

What happens if West doesn't hold the queen of diamonds? In that case, East wins the first round of diamonds with the queen. Declarer must then lead the ace of diamonds from dummy towards his king, in the hope that East has the ace of diamonds. After all, the way Hard Luck Joe played the hand, his only hope was that East had the ace of diamonds. The proper line has that chance plus the chance that West has the queen of diamonds.

Way to Combat Isolationism Is to Get back of Principles and Uphold Them

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 2—Isolationism is a very troublesome word in American politics and the sentiment which it represents is never overcome merely by denouncing its exponents. Nor is isolationism confined only to Republicans.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt was at one time an exponent of isolationist doctrine. Although a candidate for vice president in 1920 on a platform that favored American entry into the League of Nations, he reversed himself in 1932 to gain isolationist support for his nomination for the presidency. When he became President he broke up the International Economic Conference being held in London in 1933 which might have laid the foundation for a sort of Marshall Plan that might have buttressed Europe against World War II.

Isolationism is like an epidemic—it penetrates everywhere, and within both political parties. As one who has consistently opposed it ever since the 1920's, the observation may be advanced now that isolationist policies are never defeated by denouncing their sponsors.

The real way to fight isolationism is to get at its causes and debate the issues vigorously. The momentum given to isolationism here in recent weeks came from Europe—not America. The sooner the Truman administration and those Republicans who are anti-isolationism wake up to the fact that millions of Americans it looks as if our allies have forsaken us, the sooner will the European peoples be told the blunt truths they need to know.

Another motivating reason for the growth of isolationism recently in America is the attitude of the United Nations itself. Failure to declare Russia an aggressor, failure to declare Communist China an aggressor, failure to deal firmly with the many violations of international law of which the Communists are guilty has weakened faith in the U. N.

The American people, moreover, don't like double talk. They are not in a mood to listen to excuses even a small part of Europe if they were transferred there at once. If American air and naval resources cannot fight a holding operation in the Pacific while we assist in carrying on a major operation in Europe, it must be because Europe expects America to do the whole job and furnish the bulk of the manpower. That situation is a small part of Europe if they were transferred there at once. MYTH OF SOVEREIGNTY

One of the things which continues to hamper attempts to organize the nations for peace and order is the jealousy of national sovereignty. Individual nations have an inclination to act as individuals sometimes simply to prove that they are sovereign. Efforts to form a federation in Europe, to clothe the United Nations with real authority and to give force to international courts are held back because people of the various nations, including our own, keep saying that we must not give up our sovereignty.

Yet sovereignty is little more than a myth in the field of international relations. A sovereign nation, by definition, is one which is not dependent on nor limited by any other, and which can make war or peace by its own decision. What nation in the world today is really sovereign?

We believe the United States to be the strongest nation in the world today; certainly we and our forefathers have fiercely regarded this as a sovereign nation for the past century and a half. Yet we are very much limited by things which have been done, and yet may be done, by a little puppet government in Korea, by a revolutionary regime in China, by the policies of the Soviet Union. Perhaps we can make war by our own decision, but it is far from certain that we can individually make peace. We know, too, that many domestic matters are determined by what other powers in the world do—prices of things we buy, what we do with our tax money, whether a lad goes to school or to the military service.

We could have most, perhaps all of the international organization needed to prevent war, without giving up any sovereignty that we have in actuality. For the course of history already has taken away much of what we thought we possessed.

ON LOYALTY OATHS

The law is supposed to be a deliberate profession. The length of time involved in getting a legal point settled often taxes the patience of laymen. It is surprising, therefore, to get an intimation that the national body of attorneys, the American Bar Association, apparently adopted a far-reaching recommendation without stopping to consider what it might involve. This was its resolution, accepted without debate at the fall convention, requiring repeated anti-Communist oaths from all members of the bar.

A body of distinguished and conservative lawyers now asserts that this action was a mistake. Former Justice Owen J. Roberts of the United States Supreme Court heads the group, which includes three former presidents of the American Bar Association. Among these is John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, attorney for J. P. Morgan and Co., and an opponent of the New Deal.

This oath business, the Roberts group maintains, violates "the American tradition that suspicion of disloyalty shall not be cast upon an entire class or profession upon the chance of catching a few random delinquents." If there are Communists among the lawyers, they would probably not hesitate to swear falsely that they are not Reds; and little would be gained.

The American Bar Association might find it wise to take the question up again at its next convention, and thrash out the pros and cons.

HEALTH AND WEALTH

One of the hopeful fields of activity of the United Nations is that of improving health, and the World Health Organization already has achieved some concrete results. Yet discussions at a recent Middle East symposium on tropical diseases indicated that this group, like others which have tackled health problems, is already up against the interrelation between health and wealth.

This is true, but what we forget is that some of these germs are already in our bodies, doing little or no harm because our fighting forces (our resistance) is strong enough to prevent them getting a hold in our bodies.

However, when you are tired, or the weather is damp, hot or cold, then these organisms already in the body begin to give trouble, particularly if a lot of these organisms are about in the outdoor air also.

Generally speaking, you may have a good body and yet your forefathers have had a number of common diseases that built them, and then you, a good resistance to the organisms of disease. However, whether your resistance is strong enough to fight off the disease or give it such a good fight that your recover depends upon your heart, often just the muscular power of your heart. If your heart has enough reserve power, you successfully fight off the disease and recover. If your heart reserve has been lowered by some slight infection, by lack of sleep or poor nourishment, or you keep on your feet during an illness when you should be resting, then you may not pull through.

During the flu epidemic of 1918-1919, the papers stated that this ailment attacked the strong and vigorous in a more deadly manner than it did those who were of poor physique.

Why did the strong individuals die? It was because they were strong and did not keel over or go immediately to bed when first attacked, and kept on their feet for two, three or more days before they finally went, or were put, to bed.

This was the reason so many of them died. They used up much of their heart reserve at a time when the heart was already fighting a hard battle and needed to build up reserve power, instead of spending or using it.

Remember, the heart does from three to five times as much work when you are walking about as it does when you are lying quietly in bed. On the other hand, an individual who is not very strong and has to go to bed sooner than the stronger one has a better chance than a "he-man" who refuses to go to bed. It's the heart that has to do the fighting.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Ambassador to Spain

President Truman is notorious for disliking to confirm a Drew Pearson scoop. He has even been known to shift important job appointments to thwart one of Pearson's predictions. Perhaps that was why he waited until December 27 to confirm the Pearson story of November 26 that Stanton Griffiths would be made ambassador to Spain.

It was one month ago that Pearson told how Griffiths, in handing in his resignation as ambassador to Argentina, asked Truman to be appointed to France. At that time Truman promised to send Griffiths to Spain instead.

Washington—Every nickel of the $3,000,000,000 we have spent on atom-and H-bomb development in the last four years is paying defense dividends, Gordon Dean, aggressive young boss of the Atomic Energy Commission, recently told the House Appropriations Committee.

"The country is certainly entitled to know whether this money has been well spent or poorly spent," Dean declared behind closed doors. "I can assure you from where I sit that, as far as bombs are concerned, this country is in a strong position. That does not mean we are relaxed."

"What John Q. Public has in the back of his mind is what has happened to that $3,000,000,000-plus you have had in the last four years—all peacetime years," prompted Rep. Albert Thomas of Texas.

Singapore (AP)—Marilynappan, an Indian, told a Singapore magistrate he collected human ashes from a cemetery to cure a stomachache. He was charged with trespassing in a Hindu cemetery. He said a priest told him to collect the ashes, keep them for ten days and then smear them over his stomach.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bad Lead Put Joe Out of Business

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"Sometimes I'm glad when all of the cards are badly placed," said Hard Luck Joe. "Then there's no possibility that I could have guessed right and played the hand some other way."

Joe was referring to the hand he had just played. He was sure that all of the cards were wrong for him, but his partner had a different opinion.

West opened the jack of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Joe next took the ace and king of spades, exhausting trumps. Crossing his fingers for good luck, Joe then led a diamond from dummy and played the king from his own hand.

This was not Joe's lucky day. (Naturally enough, for Joe claims he never has one.) West took the ace and queen of diamonds and shifted back to clubs. Declarer went through the motions of trying for some fanciful sort of squeeze, but it was all pure moonshine. He had already lost two diamonds and a club, and he was bound to lose a heart eventually. The contract was therefore set one trick.

Do you think Joe was unlucky,

or do you see his mistake? Decide for yourself before you read on.

Joe was not unlucky, for he could have made his contract by playing it properly. His mistake occurred in the play of the diamonds.

The right way to play the diamonds in his hand is to lead a low diamond from the South hand towards dummy's jack.

If West has the queen of diamonds, he must play it once—no matter who has the ace of diamonds. Otherwise the jack of diamonds will either win at once or else will force out the ace.

Assuming that West plays the queen of diamonds on the first round of the suit, the defenders can do no better than cash one club and then knock out the king of hearts. The jack of diamonds is next led from dummy, forcing out the ace. When the defenders promptly knock out the ace of hearts (best defense), South cashes the king of diamonds to discard dummy's losing heart.

What happens if West doesn't hold the queen of diamonds? In that case, East wins the first round of diamonds with the queen. Declarer must then lead the next diamond from dummy towards his king, in the hope that East has the ace of diamonds. After all, the way Hard Luck Joe played the hand, his only hope was that East had the ace of diamonds. The proper line has that chance plus the chance that West has the queen of diamonds.

Questions — Answers

Q—Is there a compulsory retirement age for airline pilots?

A—The Government, through the Civil Aeronautics Administration, has power to deny renewal of a license to an airline pilot for physical disability, but it has not yet recognized any age limit for compulsory retirement.

Q—Where was calypso singing first popular?

A—Calypso originally were sung at carnivals in Trinidad, British West Indies. The words, usually impromptu and satirical, were sung to the accompaniment of a guitar.

Q—Is it true that Congress once held sessions in a tavern?

A—Yes. Due to the advance of British troops, it was decided that the Continental Congress would assemble in Baltimore, December 20, 1776. The tavern in which the delegates met was later destroyed by fire.

Q—Why is Thespian Hall in Boonville, Missouri, of particular interest?

A—This hall is said to be the oldest theatre in continuous operation west of the Alleghenies.

Q—Where is the game of draughts played?

A—In England, the game of checkers is called draughts.

Way to Combat Isolationism Is to Get back of Principles and Uphold Them

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 2—Isolationism is a very troublesome word in American politics and the sentiment which it represents is never overcome merely by denouncing its exponents. Nor is isolationism confined only to Republicans.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt was at one time an exponent of isolationist doctrine. Although a candidate for vice president in 1920 on a platform that favored American entry into the League of Nations, he reversed himself in 1932 to gain isolationist support for his nomination for the presidency. When he became President he broke up the International Economic Conference being held in London in 1933 which might have laid the foundation for a sort of Marshall Plan that might have buttressed Europe against World War II.

Isolationism is like an epidemic—it penetrates everywhere, and within both political parties. As one who has consistently opposed it ever since the 1920's, the observation may be advanced now that isolationist policies are never defeated by denouncing their sponsors.

The real way to fight isolationism is to get at its causes and debate the issues vigorously. The movement given to isolationism here in recent weeks came from Europe—not America. The sooner the Truman administration and those Republicans who are anti-isolation wake up to the fact that as if our allies have forsaken us, the sooner will the European peoples be told the blunt truths they need to know.

Another motivating reason for the growth of isolationism recently in America is the attitude of the United Nations itself. Failure to declare Russia an aggressor, failure to declare Communist China an aggressor, failure to deal firmly with the many violations of international law of which the Communists are guilty has weakened faith in the U. N.

The American people, moreover, don't like double talk. They are not in a mood to listen to excuses and rationalizations as to why Communist China should have a seat in the U. N. When the U. N. on June 26 moved against aggression and when the Red Chinese began to assist the North Korean aggressors, the American people expected the U. N. to call a spade a spade. They didn't expect certain U. N. member governments to flirt with the enemy and to encourage them by discussing the prospects of admission to the U. N. through negotiations.

The British prime minister, after his visit to President Truman, made a fatal error in publicly reiterating Britain's interest in admitting Red China to the U. N., at the very moment when American boys were being slaughtered by an aggressor—Red China's armies in Korea. The way to combat isolationism is to unite behind principles and to uphold them sincerely irrespective of expediency and material considerations. The moment a moral cause becomes tainted with materialism it loses its spiritual quality and begets selfishness which is the main ingredient of the isolationist attitude.

Politicians, whether they be Republicans or Democrats, watch the trends of public opinion. The Associated Press survey last week-end telling about the avalanche of letters to editors of newspapers shows how widespread is the dissatisfaction with European governments that have failed to send their proper proportion of troops to Korea. European isolationism has provoked American isolationism.

Politically speaking, isolationism in this country thrives on the oft-repeated remark that "Europe is playing America for a sucker." The best way to refute it is by facts. Unhappily, Europe's record of mobilizing manpower in her own defense in the last few years is bad. As long as Europe fails to perceive her own failures, isolationism will grow in America. But once Europe puts her shoulder to the wheel and stops talking about the idea that we are going to "get bogged down" in the Far East with American troops and money wanted by Europe, the sooner will American public opinion rally behind Europe's defense as it has done twice before in our history.

To say that aggression should be appeased in the Far East because we are powerless to fight it there is to admit a weakness that really doesn't exist. All our troops now committed in the Far East, in what may for some time to come have to be a holding operation rather than an offensive, would not be enough to defend even a small part of Europe if they were transferred there at once. If American air and naval resources cannot fight a holding operation in the Pacific while we assist in carrying on a major operation in Europe, it must be because Europe expects America to do the whole job and furnish the bulk of the manpower. That simply isn't in the cards and many of the "isolationists" of today are those who feel that Europe hasn't done her duty toward the U. N. resolution of intervention in Korea, and if that's to be the course of history America had better protect herself by waiting within her own defense line for Europe to show a will to help us as allies.

The misunderstanding—for such it really is—can be cleared away. But the Truman administration is handicapped in not being able to proclaim American purposes persuasively to the world because at this moment European governments have not shown their willingness to make genuine sacrifices to resist Communist aggression no matter where it launches its attack.

Want No Western Praise

Berlin (AP)—A theatre critic in the Soviet sector of Berlin was sharply reprimanded for being objective about the West Berlin press. Fritz Erpenbeck in one of his reviews quoted the reaction of West Berlin newspapers and ill-praised the West Berlin press bureau, objecting hotly to his reprinting of West Berlin compliments for a Russian play. The statement made it clear the West press is "the warmongering press" and not even its compliments are to be accepted. "A cross form of objectivity, in practical application, is unthinkable," the statement said.

Get Silver Ore

Cobalt, Ont. (AP)—Highgraders have moved in on the booming Cobalt silver mine here. Highgrading is the mining industry's name for thievery. When an American mining journal reported that ore holding more than 4,000 ounces of silver per ton had been struck at the Cobalt Lode Mine, according to one of the community's old-timers, buyers flocked to the established contact with mine workers who steal the ore.

FIRST 'DATES'

Few questions are asked as often as this one: "How old do you think a young girl should be before she is allowed to go out alone with boys?"

This is an impossible question to answer definitely because it depends upon the town in which she lives; the type of girl she is; the type of each particular boy she knows and where they are planning to go. To a small town neighborhood movie house, where she knows practically everyone in the theatre, she could go in her earliest teens. In a big city she would have to be at least sixteen and even then be going with a boy well known to her family.

Wedding Away From Home

Dear Mrs. Post: When a majority of the bride's (and groom's) friends live in one town, wouldn't it be more practical for the bride's family, who live in another town, to come here and give the wedding and reception? If the wedding is given in her family's home, none of her best friends would be able to travel the distance, and to me, sending an invitation under these circumstances actually would suggest that they don't really want to have any guests.

Answer: Under the particular circumstances you describe, it might be better to disregard the usual convention and have the wedding where she now lives.

A Matter of Personal Choice

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend insists that a lace cloth should be used over white or color and not over the bare table. I prefer to use it without anything underneath and have my table heat-proofed. I think the pattern of the cloth shows more effectively over the wood. Kindly tell me if my preference is correct.

Answer: There is no rule about this other than one's own preference. Personally, I agree with you that the table showing through the lace cloth is much prettier.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but perhaps one of her many leaflets will answer your problem. If you are planning an "open house" or a housewarming, leaflet E-28 gives suggestions for entertainment and the invitation. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 98, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Hurley Parents
To Hear of New
Educational Service

During the next meeting of the Hurley Parents' Club, Wednesday night at the school house, a program will be given to explain and demonstrate the work of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services. The board, which is supported and subscribed to by a number of schools in the same supervisory district, offers health and educational services which most individual schools are not able to secure or support.

First speaker of the evening will be Miss Sharon Linstruh, dental hygienist, who will explain the board's program of teeth cleaning, notification of parents where caries are found, and sodium fluoride solution treatment which is administered to those students whose parents approve. The purpose of the solution is to help check further tooth decay.

The second speaker, Reginald Russell, will outline his work as grade supervisor, including the aptitude and achievement tests which are given under his direction.

The entire program is expected to be of particular interest to Hurley parents whose children are in a position to benefit from these progressive educational techniques which have been recently introduced in the school.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle, Mrs. Prescott J. Clapp, and Mrs. Franklin W. Curtis.

The oca board will meet at 1:30 p. m.

Air Raid Shelters Planned

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Air raid shelters described as "ideal" are being planned for New York city's Grand Central Terminal, one of the nation's largest rail stations. Civil Defense official William Dixon said the terminal's refuge centers would provide perfect protection against possible bombings because they would be below street level and under heavy stone structures.

Girl Scout News

On December 19 members of Brownie Troop No. 67, St. Joseph's Church, entertained their parents and troop committee at a Christmas party. The girls presented a play, "Who Mixed Up the Gifts."

Characters were Santa Claus, Anne Lamb; Mr. Parker, Shirley Holway; Mrs. Parker, Helen McDonald; Tuck, Martha Martin; Nip, Elaine Bertie; Perry, Patricia Brooks; Penny, Karen Faye; Peewee, Carolyn Rutz. Following the play the Brownies held their candle lighting ceremony with a prayer for world peace, and chose Christmas gifts from a grab bag. Refreshments were served by the following troop committee: Mrs. Edwin Lamb, Mrs. Paul Zucca and Mrs. Joseph Brooks. Mrs. Jeremy Bouchard, leader, spoke briefly to the parents on the importance of the committee to a Brownie troop.

Good Taste
Today

by Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

FIRST 'DATES'!
Few questions are asked as often as this one: "How old do you think a young girl should be before she is allowed to go out alone with boys?"

This is an impossible question to answer definitely because it depends upon the town in which she lives; the type of girl she is; the type of each particular boy she knows and where they are planning to go. To a small town neighborhood movie house, where she knows practically everyone in the theatre, she could go in her earliest teens. In a big city she would have to be at least sixteen and even then be going with a boy well known to her family.

Wedding Away From Home

Dear Mrs. Post: When a majority of the bride's (and groom's) friends live in one town, wouldn't it be more practical for the bride's family, who live in another town, to come here and give the wedding and reception? If the wedding is given in her family's home, none of her best friends would be able to travel the distance, and to me, sending an invitation under these circumstances actually would suggest that they don't really want to have any guests.

A Matter of Personal Choice

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend insists that a lace cloth should be used over white or color and not over the bare table. I prefer to use it without anything underneath and have my table heat-proofed. I think the pattern of the cloth shows more effectively over the wood. Kindly tell me if my preference is correct.

Answer: There is no rule about this other than one's own preference. Personally, I agree with you that the table showing through the lace cloth is much prettier.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but perhaps one of her many leaflets will answer your problem. If you are planning a "open house" or a housewarming, leaflet E-28 gives suggestions for entertainment and the invitation. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Girl Scout News

On December 19 members of Brownie Troop No. 67, St. Joseph's Church, entertained their parents and troop committee at a Christmas party. The girls presented a play, "Who Mixed Up the Gifts." Characters were Santa Claus, Anne Lamb; Mr. Parker, Shirley Hoffer; Mrs. Parker, Helen McDonald; Tuck, Martha Martin; Nip, Elaine Bertie; Perry, Patricia Brooks; Penny, Karen Faye; Peewee, Carolyn Rutz. Following the play the Brownies held their candle lighting ceremony with a prayer for world peace, and chose Christmas gifts from a grab bag. Refreshments were served by the following troop committee, Mrs. Edwin Lamb, Mrs. Paul Zucca and Mrs. Joseph Brooks. Mrs. Jeremy Bouchard, leader, spoke briefly to the parents on the importance of the committee to a Brownie troop.

Personal Notes

A son, Frank, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam John Turck of 190 First avenue, Wednesday, December 20.

Miss Theresa Schatzel of 10 Furnace street spent the holidays with a college friend, Miss Joan Schultz, in New York. While there she also visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maroney of Long Island City.
S/Sgt. Albert Passer, and Cpl. Lois Ray spent the Christmas holidays with S/Sgt. Passer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Passer, Sr., of 8 North Wilbur avenue.

Hurley Parents
To Hear of New
Educational Service

During the next meeting of the Hurley Parents' Club, Wednesday night at the school house, a program will be given to explain and demonstrate the work of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services. The board, which is supported and subscribed to by a number of schools in the same supervisory district, offers health and educational services which most individual schools are not able to secure or support.

First speaker of the evening will be Miss Sharon Linstruh, dental hygienist, who will explain the board's program of teeth cleaning, notification of parents where caries are found, and sodium fluoride solution treatment which is administered to those students whose parents approve. The purpose of the solution is to help check further tooth decay.

The second speaker, Reginald Russell, will outline his work as grade supervisor, including the attitude and achievement tests which are given under his direction.

The entire program is expected to be of particular interest to Hurley parents whose children are in a position to benefit from these progressive educational techniques which have been recently introduced in the school.

D.A.R. to Elect
New Delegates

Delegates and alternates to the Continental Congress which is held in Washington, D. C. during the week of April 16, will be elected Thursday during the regular monthly meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R.

The program will include an account of the work done by the D.A.R. at Ellis Island and there will be a film on D.A.R. occupational therapy.
Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle, Mrs. Prescott J. Clapp, and Mrs. Franklin W. Curtis.
The oca board will meet at 1:30 p. m.

Air Raid Shelters Planned

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Air raid shelters described as "ideal" are being planned for New York city's Grand Central Terminal, one of the nation's largest rail stations. Civil Defense official William Dixon said the terminal's refuge centers would provide perfect protection against possible bombings because they would be below street level and under heavy stone structures.

WISE BUSINESSMEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN FOR RESULTS

On Buying a Friend

By FRANK TRIPP

There are people who will not accept friendship no matter how one tries to thrust it upon them. If you have never met them, you do now—millions of them who would destroy the lives and future of your own children.

For my part, I've heard enough about sacrifice to give any of them the life and opportunities which our forefathers earned for you and me, and which we now must fight to preserve for ourselves.

Americans should be fed up with trying to force friendship down unwilling throats and put a bottle of milk on every Hottentot doorstep. It's time to force down respect and fear with bayonets if need be.

My poor mother worked her fingers sore for foreign missions, mostly for Chinese and Koreans. I visited in Korea the very mission to which she gave the most of herself and, in Manchuria, others like it. I found the oppressive governments accepting our bounty as a purely economic advantage, and tolerating missions as a necessity through which came, at no cost or bother to them, rare social benefits and physical ministrations which they made no effort to give to their wretched people.

IN KOREA the Japanese, then in control, had turned practically the whole educational system over to the missions. With tongue in cheek they lauded the foreigners' work; because they viciously planned its limitations and knew it would never be permitted to a point where it could control the lives or ultimate thinking of the masses.

They knew, as we would know in reverse circumstances, that these were Koreans and Chinese and in a showdown all but comparatively few of them would revert to type and react as Koreans and Chinese.

For the Oriental is master of the most vicious of weapons—propaganda, misrepresentation and lies. Inborn in every Oriental, deeper rooted than any Western religion or philosophy can penetrate, is a feeling of superiority, of dislike and suspicion of the white man; so eternal in the yellow breast that it can be fanned into hatred at a moment's notice.

Let no reader interpret these words as belittlement of the wondrous good that missions of every creed have done, nor suggestion that their work be lessened. The intent is to observe the futility of pitting the spiritual against human nature and the wanton cruelty and power of foreign war lords. One vicious lie from them can—and has—translated our mission efforts into hateful instruments of imperialism, in the Oriental mind.

We have seen these truths in action. We have seen the insincerity of the Japanese, who mocked our friendship while we nurtured them from feudalism to world power. We saw them in their true light at Pearl Harbor.

WE HAVE just heard Chinese spokesman Wu Hsiu-chuan proclaim in a temple of peace in our own land: "The American imperialists have always been the cunning aggressor; never the friends of the Chinese people." Backing this libel are 463 million Chinese who, whether or not all agree, will be forced into agreement in order to survive.

They will come and come in hordes until they are subdued or a truce agreeable to their Kremlin-goaded leaders is obtained. And when they are exhausted, 211 million Russians would come, en route "to Paris, via Peking."

That is what it would mean to defend democracy in the Orient. While General Wu was villifying the truest friend that China ever had and scoffing offers of a merciful truce, his hopped up countrymen were killing your neighbor's boy—perhaps your own. How diabolically similar all of this is to Pearl Harbor. How deceptively exact and cruelly the Oriental mind operates. How naive we are!

OUR HOPE of extending to all mankind the freedoms which we enjoy has come to the gruesome day when we must fight to preserve freedom for ourselves. We must become selfishly realistic about it; cruelly realistic.

We must admit that "East is East and West is West," and that friendship cannot be forced upon any peoples. It is not "shall we get out of the Orient?" It now is "shall they get in here?"

We might even inventory the friendship which we think we enjoy with white nations—and try to get it off the dollar basis, which is a vulgar way to claim or keep a friend.

Or else we'll fight the Asiatic hordes alone: 674 millions against our 140. What suckers we'd be to stage it on their home grounds. (Copyright 1950, General Features Corp.)

WALK KILL

Walkkill, Jan. 2—Miss Carole Van Wagenen of Kingston is spending the holidays with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Quick.

The lighting contest sponsored by the Walkkill Chamber of Commerce has resulted in the following selections: George Hammesfahr, first prize; Howard Terwilliger, second prize; and Mitchell Curesky, third prize. Honorable mention winners were C. E. Terwilliger, John Trakulski, Mrs. Samuel Woodbridge and Lawrence Mower.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Wagenen of Kingston spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mr. Van Wagenen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Van Wagenen.

Mr. and Mrs. Macey Van Wagenen are visiting his son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Victor F. Van Wagenen of Fonda. They expect to remain there for a few days during the holiday season.

Mrs. George Sohns, Mrs. Byron S. Galloway and Mrs. C. E. Caswell were guests of Mrs. Emmett Conklin Thursday afternoon.

Chauncey Morehouse was a

Wednesday visitor at the home of Mrs. Sam Phelps and son, David of Walden. David Phelps is a former student at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Richard E. Hine, Jr., has taken the position as organist at the Walkkill Dutch Reformed Church.

Baptism rites were held Sunday at the Reformed Church. Those receiving the sacrament of baptism were Donna Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Titus; Donnette Audrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Owen; and Frederick Jay, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Terwilliger. The combined Junior and senior choirs sang appropriate music. The Rev. Richard Hine, Jr., administered the baptism and delivered the sermon, "The Spirit of Christmas."

Hubert Hendrie, Jr., of the Newport Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I., spent his Christmas leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hendrie of Singing Inn Farm.

Knights of Pythias will hold a public card party Friday, 8 p. m., at the lodge rooms. Refreshments will be served.

WISE BUSINESSMEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN FOR RESULTS

On Buying a Friend

By FRANK TRIPP

There are people who will not accept friendship no matter how one tries to thrust it upon them. If you have never met them, you do now—millions of them who would destroy the lives and future of your own children.

For my part, I've heard enough about sacrifice to give any of them the life and opportunities which our forefathers earned for you and me, and which we now must fight to preserve for ourselves.

Americans should be fed up with trying to force friendship down unwilling throats and put a bottle of milk on every Hottentot doorstep. It's time to force down respect and fear with bayonets if need be.

My poor mother worked her fingers sore for foreign missions, mostly for Chinese and Koreans. I visited in Korea the very mission to which she gave the most of herself and, in Manchuria, others like it. I found the oppressive governments accepting our bounty as a purely economic advantage, and tolerating missions as a necessity through which came, at no cost or bother to them, rare social benefits and physical ministrations which they made no effort to give to their wretched people.

IN KOREA the Japanese, then in control, had turned practically the whole educational system over to the missions. With tongue in cheek they lauded the foreigners' work; because they viciously planned its limitations and knew it would never be permitted to a point where it could control the lives or ultimate thinking of the masses.

They knew, as we would know in reverse circumstances, that these were Koreans and Chinese and in a showdown all but comparatively few of them would revert to type and react as Koreans and Chinese.

For the Oriental is master of the most vicious of weapons—propaganda, misrepresentation and lies. Inborn in every Oriental, deeper rooted than any Western religion or philosophy can penetrate, is a feeling of superiority, of dislike and suspicion of the white man; so eternal in the yellow breast that it can be fanned into hatred at a moment's notice. Let no reader interpret these words as belittlement of the wondrous good that missions of every creed have done, nor suggestion that their work be lessened. The intent is to observe the futility of pitting the spiritual against human nature and the wanton cruelty and power of foreign war lords. One vicious lie from them can—and has—translated our mission efforts into hateful instruments of imperialism, in the Oriental mind.

We have seen these truths in action. We have seen the insincerity of the Japanese, who mocked our friendship while we nurtured them from feudalism to world power. We saw them in their true light at Pearl Harbor.

WE HAVE just heard Chinese spokesman Wu Hsiu-chuan proclaim in a temple of peace in our own land: "The American imperialists have always been the cunning aggressor; never the friends of the Chinese people." Backing this libel are 463 million Chinese who, whether or not all agree, will be forced into agreement in order to survive.

They will come and come in hordes until they are subdued or a truce agreeable to their Kremlin-goaded leaders is obtained. And when they are exhausted, 211 million Russians would come, en route "to Paris, via Peking." That is what it would mean to defend democracy in the Orient.

While General Wu was villifying the truest friend that China ever had and scoffing offers of a merciful truce, his hopped up countrymen were killing your neighbor's boy—perhaps your own. How diabolically similar all of this is to Pearl Harbor. How deceptively exact and cruelly the Oriental mind operates. How naive we are!

OUR HOPE of extending to all mankind the freedoms which we enjoy has come to the gruesome day when we must fight to preserve freedom for ourselves. We must become selfishly realistic about it; cruelly realistic.

We must admit that "East is East and West is West," and that friendship cannot be forced upon any peoples. It is not "shall we get out of the Orient?" It now is "shall they get in here?"

We might even inventory the friendship which we think we enjoy with white nations—and try to get it off the dollar basis, which is a vulgar way to claim or keep a friend.

Or else we'll fight the Asiatic hordes alone: 674 millions against our 140. What suckers we'd be to stage it on their home grounds. (Copyright 1950, General Features Corp.)

WALKILL

Walkill, Jan. 2—Miss Carole Van Wagenen of Kingston is spending the holidays with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Quick.

The lighting contest sponsored by the Walkill Chamber of Commerce has resulted in the following selections: George Hammesfahr, first prize; Howard Terwilliger, second prize; and Mitchell Curesky, third prize. Honorable mention winners were C. E. Terwilliger, John Trakulski, Mrs. Samuel Woodbridge and Lawrence Mower.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Wagenen of Kingston spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Mr. Van Wagenen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Van Wagenen.

Mr. and Mrs. Macey Van Wagenen are visiting his son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Victor F. Van Wagenen of Fonda. They expect to remain there for a few days during the holiday season.

Mrs. George Sohn, Mrs. Byron S. Galloway and Mrs. C. E. Caswell were guests of Mrs. Emmett Conklin Thursday afternoon.

Chauncey Morehouse was a

Wednesday visitor at the home of Mrs. Sam Phelps and son, David of Walden. David Phelps is a former student at Springfield College, Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Richard E. Hine, Jr., has taken the position as organist at the Walkill Dutch Reformed Church.

Baptism rites were held Sunday at the Reformed Church. Those receiving the sacrament of baptism were Donna Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Titus; Donnette Audrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Owen; and Frederick Jay, son of

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Terwilliger. The combined junior and senior choirs sang appropriate music. The Rev. Richard Hine, Jr., administered the baptism and delivered the sermon, "The Spirit of Christmas."

Hubert Hendrie, Jr., of the Newport Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I., spent his Christmas leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hendrie of Singing Inn Farm.

Knights of Pythias will hold a public card party Friday, 8 p. m., at the lodge rooms. Refreshments will be served.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Clemson Win Major Bowl Games

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Notre Dame and Army moved over today to let the Oklahoma Sooners play their weary frames down on old upset bench as another great football winning streak came to an end.

In an astounding round of New Year's Day bowl reverses, three favored teams bit the dust in bitter defeat—Oklahoma, California and Texas.

The most astonishing result came from the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, where the fighting Kentucky Wildcats clawed powerful Oklahoma, 13 to 7. This was the mighty Sooners outfit voted the national No. 1 college team of 1950. Oklahoma was favored by six and one-half points, but Babe Parilli and his Kentucky mates couldn't see it that way. Kentucky, rated No. 7 in the final AP poll, Underdog Michigan rallied in the fourth period of the Rose Bowl at Pasadena to clout California, 14-6. Ever-tough Tennessee also punched across a pair of fourth-period touchdowns to sink favored Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, 20-14. California was favored by three points, Texas by seven.

Clemson Wins
Two of the favored clubs among the five top games did the expected, however. Clemson, a one point choice over Miami, barely made the grade with a 15-14 verdict in the Orange Bowl at Miami. Wyoming's Skyline Conference champions, a seven point favorite, blasted Washington and Lee, 20-7, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. W. & L. had won the Southern Conference title.

A total of 435,323 witnessed 11 bowl games.

Kentucky made it the end of the line for Oklahoma's imposing string of 31 victories in a row—a modern college record.

Oklahoma thus waited until the final curtain dropped on the 1950 season to join Notre Dame and Army, two great gridiron Titans who saw great football records topple during the fall. Purdue socked the Irish Oct. 7, 28 to 14. This broke a record of 30 Notre Dame games without defeat. Ties with Army and Southern California were the only blotches on the mark.

Fumble Sets Up Play
Navy ended Army's record of 28 games without defeat, 14-2, a month ago today. The Army string included two ties with Penn and Navy.

Tackle Walt Yowarsky joined Parilli as the hero of the Kentucky victory when he recovered a first period fumble by Oklahoma's Claude Arnold on the Sooner 23. Parilli passed on the next play for a touchdown to Wilbur Jamerson and the Wildcats were on their way before a sellout crowd of 82,000.

Kentucky went ahead 13-0 in the second period when Parilli passed 51 yards to End Al Bruno on Oklahoma's one-foot line. Jamerson bucked across for this touchdown.

Oklahoma got back into the game in the final period. The Sooners traveled 80 yards, most of it on the running of Leon Heath and Billy Vessels. Arnold passed 7 yards to Halfback Merrill Green for the touchdown.

Michigan, never scored in its two previous Rose Bowl frays, faced defeat until the final 10 minutes when California's defenses collapsed before the day's biggest through—96,939—at Pasadena.

The Big Ten champions, with Chuck Ortman in the driver's seat, smashed 80 yards in their winning march. Don Dufek, who scored both Michigan touchdowns, crunched over the goal line on fourth down from the two-foot line. Then Harry Allis booted the big conversion and Michigan went in front.

Jim Marinos, who passed 39 yards to Bob Cummings in the second period for California's score, gambled on fourth down after Michigan scored. His pass was broken up on the California 13 and three plays later Dufek scored from the seven.

Only three minutes remained when tiny Hank Lauricella of Tennessee sparked the Vols' winning touchdown over Texas before 75,349 at Dallas. Lauricella, who set up Tennessee's first score with a 75-yard gallop in the opening period, passed 26 yards to Bert Rechichar to set up the winning score. Andy Kozar, who counted Tennessee's second touchdown earlier in the fourth period, romped 12 yards for the clincher.

A blocked punt gave Texas the ball on the Vol eight, and Byron Townsend banged over from the five on fourth down in the second period. Ben Tompkins passed 34 yards to Gih Dawson for the score that put Texas ahead late in the second quarter.

In other games, Miami of Ohio downed Arizona State at Tempe, 34-21, in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz. The La Crosse, Wis., Teachers thumped Valparaiso, 47-14, in the Cigar Bowl at Las Vegas. West Texas took a 14-13 verdict over Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Morris Harvey defeated Emory & Henry in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. 35-14; Hawaii outlasted Denver, 26-27, in the Pineapple Bowl at Honolulu, and San Angelo, Tex., won from Wharton, Tex., 6-0, in the junior college Oleander Bowl at Galveston.

Can-Am League Receptive to Offer From Kingston for Franchise

President Says Choice Is Between Utica and City

Final Decision Due Before January 13

The Canadian-American Baseball League, streamlined to six franchises because of the national emergency, is receptive to a Kingston bid for the sixth team in the 14-year-old Class C League, President Albert E. Houghton of Schenectady told Colonial City Baseball, Inc. officials here on Saturday.

With the Schenectady franchise transferred to the Class A Eastern League and Three Rivers and Ottawa, Canada lining up with the Canadian Provincial League on a one-year trial basis, the five hold-over franchises will be Oneonta, Gloversville, Amsterdam, Pittsfield and Rome, Houghton said.

The choice for the sixth team has narrowed down to Utica and Kingston, the Can-Am president continued, but Can-Am officials favor Kingston because of better facilities in this city.

Lost Cost Franchise
Early choices for the sixth spot had included Burlington and Rutland, Vt., but the New England towns were eliminated for various reasons last week.

The Can-Am president set no specific price for a league franchise but hinted that the league would be receptive to an offer of "$500 or so."

Houghton pointed out that the Can-Am League decided to reduce to six teams because of the anticipated manpower shortage and because of a desire to eliminate lengthy trips to Canadian cities.

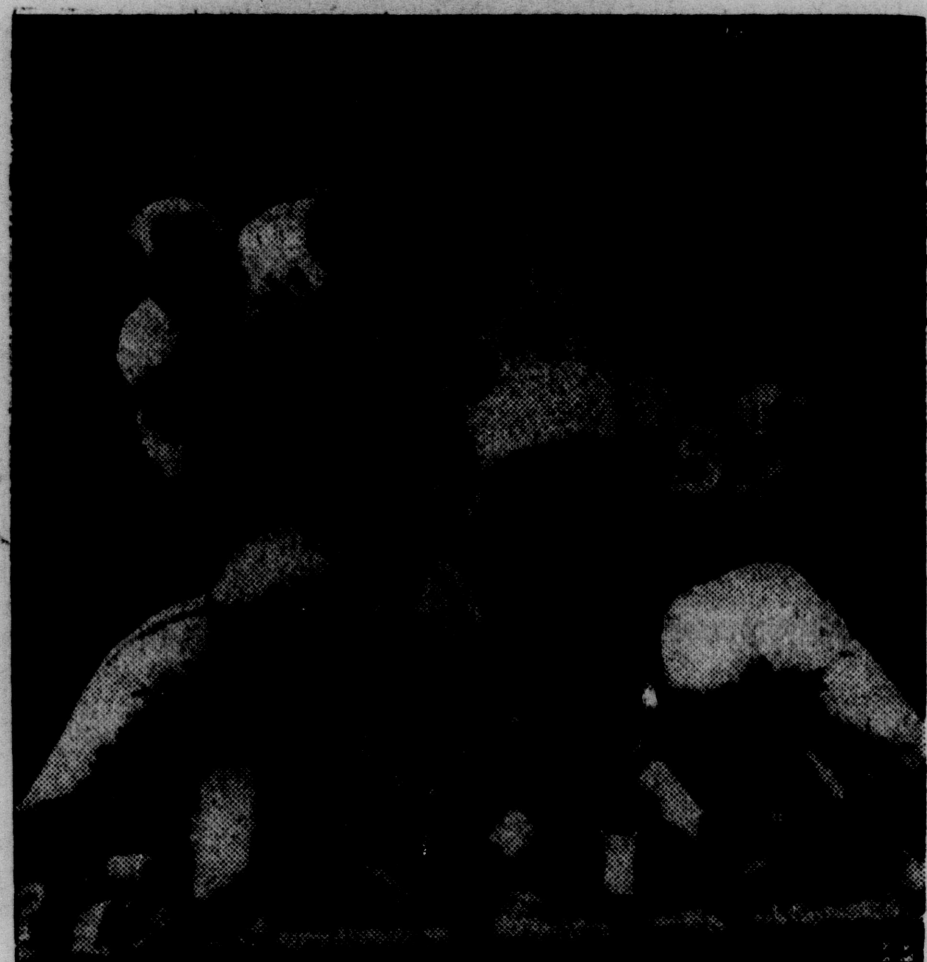

The new proposed six-team circuit will be more compact and will, of course, be an all-New York state affair.

Seek Major Tieup
Following a lengthy discussion on finances and personnel problems, local officials assured Houghton that Kingston representatives would attend the final re-organization meeting of the Canadian-American League on January 13 in Schenectady.

Houghton warned the local group that the question of a major league tieup might be a vital factor in minor league ball in 1951. He urged them to contact as many major league clubs as possible in an effort to effect some sort of agreement, if they had serious intentions of affiliating with the Can-Am circuit.

Colonial City Baseball, Inc. officials who attended Saturday's meeting included Addison Jones, president; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Albert Kurdt, Matthew Herzog, Fred Eisler, Harry L. Edson and Clarence Rowland.

SHOE-STRING TACKLE

Scheffel and Albany Pace Collegian Win

Ex-K.H.S. Stars Score 50 Points

A couple of Coach G. Warren Kias' former "hired hands" returned to the scene of former glories last night and sparked the College All Stars to a whopping 85-56 victory over the Kingston Recreations, before a couple of hundred spectators at the municipal auditorium.

Scheffel dominated the action early, his followups and screen shots sending the Collegians off to an early lead. Midway through the first period it looked like a Rec rout but Manager Andy Murphy's O-S cagers slowly climbed back into contention and when the half ended at 31-31 the spectators sat back and looked for a tight second half.

"Claw" Takes Over
Enter "The Claw" and the script had to be re-written. The Collegians literally ran the Recs into the board in the second half and when Albany's flurry of one-handers had widened the breach between the teams, the O-S veterans offered only token resistance to the fast breaking maneuvers of the Collegians.

Scheffel accumulated his 29 markers with a dozen fields and five singletons. Albany had 10 baskets and a conversion. Mike Rienzo slipped in 15 points without a touchdown. Bud Scheffel, Lafayette "Champ" Holstein, who had teamed with several of Collegians on one of Coach Kias' great K.H.S. squads, emerged as the top Rec scorer with 15 points. Charlie Neff and Rod Sagendorf shared 23.

The Collegians were without "Buddy" Smith and Big Bob Gheer, a couple of worthies who probably could have heaped more woes on the Recs. But then 85 to 56 can hardly be improved on.

Fred Linnartz, of K.H.S. football fame, racked up 34 points as the Robins moved into a first place tie with the Esopus Firemen by whipping the Yellow Jackets, 62-57, in the 1950 finale in the Y "B" Basketball League, Saturday on the Y court.

Linnartz crammed 14 of his 34 points into the second quarter when the Robins gained a 25-8 bulge to break the game wide open. The Jackets had ground out a 12-10 advantage in the first period.

The Jackets picked up 37 points against a relaxed Robins defense in the second half but still wound up five points off the pace.

Linnartz's 34 markers embraced sixteen baskets and a couple of fouls. Madjeska trailed with 11. DeCicco was high scorer for the Jackets with 19 points and Morrissey team in 12.

Bolero Moves Into Front Ranks

Arcadia, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—By blazing another world record New Year's Day in Santa Anita's $50,000 San Carlos handicap, the majestic chesnut, Bolero, established himself as the foremost sprinter in the country today.

Bolero, a somewhat inconsistent performer, winged the seven furlongs in 1:21 flat and beat the favorite, Your Host, by four lengths. His clocking trimmed two fifths of a second off the mark set by Ky. Colonel at Washington Park in 1949.

And that just about makes Bolero the class of the short distance runners. He also holds the world record for six furlongs.

Willie Shoemaker, who tied with Joe Cullome for 1950 riding honors, also gets another chance this week. He rang in the New Year without mounting a single winner.

Even so, the 38,000 patrons gave him a tremendous ovation when he appeared on the track for the first race. Before that, all his fellow jockeys assembled in the track room to congratulate him for tying Walter Miller's 44-year-old mark of 388 winners in one year.

The 6-4 forward, a transfer from the Los Angeles City Junior College, was in uniform for yesterday's clash with South Carolina but did not see action. The Blackbirds won 84-58.

Roges quit the squad last week because he said he was "dissatisfied" with the way Bee was handling him.

Los Angeles, Jan. 2 (AP)—Some 269 pros and amateurs are making their 36-hole qualifying bids today for the $15,000 Los Angeles Open Golf tournament, which launches the winter circuit.

Only 80 places are open for the 72-hole trek, which gets under way Friday over the tricky Riviera Country Club course.

The field will consist of 150 players—22 more than last year—including 70 exempt golfers, previous winners of the Los Angeles Open and other top tourneys, as well as low qualifiers of the 1950 P.G.A. championships.

Sam Snead won the tournament last year in an 18-hole playoff with Ben Hogan. That contest marked the comeback of Bantam Ben after a crippling auto accident.

Snead, 1949 P.G.A. champion and top money winner for 1950, is considered the man to beat. Hogan apparently is out of the tourney this year but Snead will meet stiff competition from such experts as Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Jim Ferrier and Lloyd Mangrum.

K W B A Sets February 3-4-10-11 Dates for Annual Tenpin Tourney

Rosedale Alleys Site for Tournament

Entry blanks for the annual tournament of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association are now in the hands of the secretaries for the various leagues. Secretary Jo Smith announced today.

If additional blanks are required, they are available at Ferraro's Bowldrome or the Ruzzo Bowlditorium.

The tournament will be held at the Chalet alleys in Rosedale, on the week-end of Feb. 3-4 and Feb. 10-11.

The closing date for entries is midnight, January 10. The tournament will operate in four classes, A, B, C and Booster, with a $2 entry fee for each event.

Speaking for the K.W.B.A. Secretary Smith said the organization hoped to have 100 per cent entry. Last year's tournament entries fell below those of previous seasons, because of the proximity of the state tournament.

Mrs. Wilson, Chairman
Mrs. Christie Wilson, president of the K.W.B.A., is general chairman of the tournament. The following working committees have been named by the K.W.B.A.

Schedule—Jo Smith, chairman; Reta Frederick, Marge Jansen, Dot Flemings, Janet Hines, Dot Rawding, Helene Mollenhauer.

Rules—Marguerite Logan, chairman; Carolyn Mohr, Cora Emerick, Lillian Buswell, Ada Markle.

Prizes—Margaret Trowbridge, chairman; Evelyn Francis, Margaret Bertram, Mary Sharot, Edith Hungerford.

Entries—Phyl Gehringer, chairman; Jessie Burnett, Eleanor Singer, Charlotte Lapine, Evelyn Groves, Tess Moss, Dorothy Freeman.

Tournament—June Van Kleeck, chairman; Elizabeth Schoonmaker, Yolanda Tenedini and Mae McCaffrey. (All Rosedale bowlers will assist this committee.)

Jones Dairy Edges Dutchess Keglers

Larry Weishaupt shot 639 and George Flemings had 609, as Jones Dairy won a 2-1 decision over Poughkeepsie in a Mid-Hudson Classic League match Saturday at the Bowlditorium.

Weishaupt had high games of 235 and 212 and Flemings hit for 225 and 204. George Baird led the Bridge City keglers with 246-226 and Jerry Tenhope shot 233.

Gene Kelly pounded 204-213-238-655 and Eddie Gordon had 211-221-622 to pace Newburgh Empires to a 2-1 win over the Trailways in Newburgh. Greek Palamidas hit 258 to spark the home keglers to a 1052 finisher.

John MacLellan had the top series of 211-569 for the Trailways.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Clemson Win Major Bowl Games

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Notre Dame and Army moved over today to let the Oklahoma Sooners plop their weary frames down on old upset bench as another great football winning streak came to an end.

In an astounding round of New Year's Day bowl reverses, three favored teams bit the dust in bitter defeat—Oklahoma, California and Texas.

The most astonishing result came from the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans where the fighting Kentucky Wildcats clawed powerful Oklahoma, 13 to 7. This was the mighty Sooner outfit voted the national No. 1 college team of 1950. Oklahoma was favored by six and one-half points, but Babe Parilli and his Kentucky mates couldn't see it that way. Kentucky, rated No. 7 in the final AP poll, Underdog Michigan rallied in the fourth period of the Rose Bowl at Pasadena to clout California, 14-6. Ever-tough Tennessee also punched across a pair of fourth-period touchdowns to sink favored Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, 20-14. California was favored by three points, Texas by seven.

Clemson Wins
Two of the favored clubs among the five top games did the expected, however. Clemson, a one point choice over Miami, barely made the grade with a 15-14 verdict in the Orange Bowl at Miami. Wyoming's Skyline Conference champions, a seven point favorite, blasted Washington and Lee, 20-7, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. W. & L. had won the Southern Conference title.

A total of 435,323 witnessed 11 bowl games.

Kentucky made it the end of the line for Oklahoma's imposing string of 31 victories in a row—a modern college record.

socked the Irish Oct. 7, 28 to 14. This broke a record of 39 Notre Dame games without defeat. Ties with Army and Southern California were the only blotches on the mark.

Fumble Sets Up Play
Navy ended Army's record of 28 games without defeat, 14-2, a month ago today. The Army string included two ties with Penn and Navy.

Parilli was the hero of the Kentucky victory when he recovered a first period fumble by Oklahoma's Claude Arnold on the Sooner 23. Parilli passed on the next play for a touchdown to Wilbur Jamerson and the Wildcats were on their way before a sellout crowd of 82,000. Kentucky went ahead 13-0 in the second period when Parilli passed 31 yards to End Al Bruno on Oklahoma's one-foot line. Jamerson bucked across for this touchdown.

Oklahoma got back into the game in the final period. The Sooners traveled 80 yards, most of it on the running of Lee H. Heath and Billy Vessels. Arnold passed 17 yards to Halfback Merrill Green for the touchdown.

Michigan, never scored on in two previous Rose Bowl frays, faced defeat until the final 10 minutes when California's defenses collapsed before the day's biggest through—98,939—at Pasadena. The Big Ten champions, with Chuck Ortmann in the driver's seat, smashed 80 yards in their winning march. Don Dufek, who scored both Michigan touchdowns, crunched over the goal line on fourth down from the two-foot line. Then Harry Allis booted the big conversion and Michigan went in front.

Jim Marinos, who passed 39 yards to Bob Cummings in the second period for California's score, gambled on fourth down after Michigan scored. His pass was broken up on the California 13 and three plays later Dufek scored from the seven.

Only three minutes remained when tiny Hank Lauricella of Tennessee sparked the Vols' winning touchdown over Texas before 75,349 at Dallas. Lauricella, who set up Tennessee's first score with a 75-yard gallop in the opening period, passed 26 yards to Bert Rechichar to set up the winning score. Andy Kozar, who counted Tennessee's second touchdown earlier in the fourth period, romped 12 yards for the clincher.

A blocked punt gave Texas the ball on the Vol eight, and Byron Townsend banged over from the five on fourth down in the second period. Ben Tompkins passed 34 yards to Gih Dawson for the score that put Texas ahead late in the second quarter.

In other games, Miami of Ohio downed Arizona State of Tempe, 34-21, in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix, Ariz. The La Crosse, Wis., Teachers thumped Valparaiso 47-14 in the Cigar Bowl at Las Vegas. West Texas took a 14-13 verdict over Cincinnati in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Morris Harvey defeated Emory & Henry in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. 35-14. Hawaii outlasted Denver 27-27, in the Pineapple Bowl at Honolulu, and San Angelo, Tex., won from Wharton, Tex. 6-0 in the junior college Gleaner Bowl at Galveston.

Can-Am League Receptive to Offer From Kingston for Franchise

President Says Choice Is Between Utica and City

Final Decision Due Before January 13

The Canadian-American Baseball League, streamlined to six franchises because of the national emergency, is receptive to a Kingston bid for the sixth team in the 14-year-old Class C League. President Albert E. Houghton of Schenectady told Colonial City Baseball, Inc. officials here on Saturday.

With the Schenectady franchise transferred to the Class A Eastern League and Three Rivers and Ottawa, Canada lining up with the Canadian Provincial League on a one-year trial basis, the five hold-over franchises will be Oneonta, Gloversville, Amsterdam, Pittsfield and Rome, Houghton said.

The choice for the sixth team has narrowed down to Utica and Kingston, the Can-Am president continued, but Can-Am officials favor Kingston because of better facilities in this city.

Lost Cost Franchise
Early choices for the sixth spot had included Burlington and Rutland, Vt., but the New England towns were eliminated for various reasons last week.

Houghton pointed out that the Can-Am League decided to reduce to six teams because of the anticipated manpower shortage and because of a desire to eliminate lengthy trips to Canadian cities.

The new proposed six-team circuit will be more compact and will, of course, be an all-New York state affair.

Seek Major Tieup
Following a lengthy discussion on finances and personnel problems, local officials assured Houghton that Kingston representatives would attend the final re-organization meeting of the Canadian-American League on January 13 in Schenectady.

Houghton warned the local group that the question of a major league tieup might be a vital factor in minor league ball in 1951. He urged them to contact as many major league clubs as possible in an effort to effect some sort of agreement, if they had serious intentions of affiliating with the Can-Am circuit.

Colonial City Baseball, Inc. officials, who attended Saturday's meeting included Addison Jones, president; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Albert Kurdt, Matthew Herzog, Fred Eisler, Harry L. Edson and Clarence Rowland.

Scheffel and Albany Pace Collegian Win

Ex-K.H.S. Stars Score 50 Points

A couple of Coach G. Warren Kias' former "hired hands" returned to the scene of former glories last night and sparked the College All Stars to a whopping 85-56 victory over the Kingston Recreations, before a couple of hundred spectators at the municipal auditorium.

That Ronnie Scheffel, who holds the all-time K.H.S. scoring record for a single season, was able to rack up 29 points came as no great surprise to the assembled citizenry.

But when Mr. Joe Albany, the famed "Claw" of passing and floor play renown went berserk at the start of the second half the spectators just gasped and cheered the new sharpshooting expert vociferously.

Scores 21 Points
"The Claw" finished with 21 points, most of them on brilliant left handed hook shots from the left corner of the court and it was his terrific one-man spree in the early moments of the third period that broke the game wide open.

At that point the Recreations, who had been leading by a score of 21-10, were out of the game.

Bolero Moves Into Front Ranks

Arcadia, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—By blazing another world record New Year's Day in Santa Anita's $50,000 San Carlos handicap, the majestic chesnut, Bolero, established himself as the foremost sprinter in the country today.

Bolero, a somewhat inconsistent performer, winged the seven furlongs in 1:21 flat and beat the favorite, Your Host, by four lengths. His clocking trimmed two fifths of a second off the mark set by Ky. Colonel at Washington Park in 1949.

And that just about makes Bolero the class of the short distance runners. He also holds the world record for six furlongs. Willie Shoemaker, who tied with Joe Cunnore for 1950 riding honors, also gets another chance this week. He rang in the New Year without mounting a single winner.

Even so, the 38,000 patrons gave him a tremendous ovation when he appeared on the track for the first race. Before that, all his fellow jockeys assembled in the track room to congratulate him for tying Walter Miller's 44-year-old mark of 388 winners in one year.

Blackbirds Reinstated Disgraced Cager

New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—Al Rogers, who quit the Long Island University basketball team in a huff last week, is back in Coach Claire Bee's good graces today.

The 6-4 forward, a transfer from the Los Angeles City Junior College, was in uniform for yesterday's clash with South Carolina but did not see action. The Blackbirds won 84-58.

Rogers quit the squad last week because he said he was "dissatisfied" with the way Bee was handling him.

Lake Placid Skiers Win Holiday Jump

Lake Placid, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—Skiers from the host Sno Birds of the Lake Placid Club walked off with the honors in the special New Year's Day ski jump.

Art Devlin won the Class A competition with leaps of 220 and 225 feet for 154.4 points.

Jack Irvin captured the Class B competition with 139.9 points on jumps of 191 and 195 feet.

In the Class A group, Billy Olsen of Eau Claire, Wis., was second with leaps of 229 and 221 and a total of 153.5 points.

Others in the top five: James Running, Eau Claire, Wis., 221 and 220 feet, 146.5 points.

Jay Rand, Lake Placid Ski Club, 213 and 205, 145.4.

Finn Solvang, New York city, 205 and 209, 143.6.

In Class B competition, Bob Immens of Chicago was second with jumps of 203 and 200 feet and 136.8 points.

Gunnar Vansen of Salisbury, Conn., placed third with 134.6 points on leaps of 195 and 207 feet.

KWBA Sets February 3-4-10-11 Dates for Annual Tenpin Tourney

Rosendale Alleys Site for Tournament

Entry blanks for the annual tournament of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association are now in the hands of the secretaries for the various leagues. Secretary Jo Smith announced today.

If additional blanks are required, they are available at Ferraro's Bowldrome or the Ruzzo Bowlditorium.

The tournament will be held at the Chalet alleys in Rosendale, on the weekend of Feb. 3-4 and Feb. 10-11.

The closing date for entries is midnight, January 10.

The tournament will operate in four classes, A,B,C and Booster, with a $2 entry fee for each event.

Speaking for the K.W.B.A., Secretary Smith said the organization hoped to have 100 per cent entry. Last year's tournament entries fell below those of previous seasons, because of the proximity of the state tournament.

Mayor Asks Bonus

able to perform the same volume of services as in previous years at the same cost. The constant rise in prices, due to the nation-wide inflation, must bring higher costs to your city government, and consequently, to the taxpayers who pay the bill.

Municipal budget-makers throughout the length and breadth of the United States are faced with the same problem.

Washington Sets Pattern

To those who would complain about increased local taxes, I can only say that the policies responsible for the shrinking purchasing value of the dollar are national policies made by our national government in Washington. No city official is responsible for the huge national debt, brought about by deficit financing. No city official is responsible for the billions of dollars annually spent by the national government in subsidies to keep retail prices up, and other national policies which are responsible for the upward spiral of prices. And yet, the effect of those higher prices cannot be escaped in making up a municipal budget.

In compliance with the city charter, I transmit to you herewith the following:

Schedule "A"—Statement of indebtedness as of December 31, 1951.

Schedule "B"—Debt requirements for the year 1951.

Schedule "C"—Proposed budget for 1951.

The Tax Rate

The proposed tax rate is $48.56 per thousand, an increase of $5.48. More than $3.00 of that increase is caused by the increase in the county budget. The city's share of the county budget increased by about $100,000. This is an item over which the city government has no control. It gets the county tax bill and must pay it.

Rising prices during the year were responsible for an operating deficit of $17,000.00.

Pension Fund Increase

There is an increase of $5,000 in the cost of maintaining the pension fund for city employees. $50,000.00 has been included, the same as last year, for street maintenance. We have 100 miles of streets. No substantial street maintenance work was done from 1941 until last year. Many streets must be top-dressed if our huge investment in street improvements is to be protected. $50,000 accomplishes only half of what it did a comparatively few years ago.

I have included in the budget a new appropriation of $2,500 for the local Civilian Defense Council. No one knows what the coming year will bring. If disaster should visit our community, or if we in Kingston are called upon to care for disaster victims from other areas, we should be ready to do our full part in protecting and saving human lives. The role of our local defense council is discussed in greater length in a later portion of this message.

Wages Raised $240

I have included in the budget, and recommend your approval of, an appropriation to pay a cost-of-living bonus of $240 for the year 1951 to all regular employees of the police, fire and public works departments and employees under the jurisdiction of the Common Council. Among those not included in the payment of the bonus are the mayor, city judge, aldermen, city clerk, city assessor, corporation counsel and special city judge. The bonus plan provides for an increase of eight cents an hour in compensation for seasonal or part-time employees on the basis of extra time only.

When I first started to prepare the budget last October, I resolved that, in view of the rising costs of living, city employees were entitled to increased compensation to permit them to meet those costs. The cost of living data published on October 1, 1950 by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics was used as a guide in arriving at my previously announced decision to recommend a five per cent cost-of-living bonus. Upon further investigation, however, I find that price indices have greatly increased since October 1st because of national wage patterns and the pressure of the war preparedness program upon our national economy brought about principally by lack of national price and wage controls. The $240 bonus recommended herein is commensurate with the cost indices in effect today.

Inflation Is Here

City employees, like the rest of us, have the responsibility to provide the necessities of life for their families. While we might deplore the political and economic developments which are responsible for the whirlwind of inflation which has hit us, we must face the fact that inflation is with us, and in a big way.

We cannot, in good conscience, penalize municipal workers by failing to recognize their plight. To fail to keep their wages on a level with prices would be equivalent to imposing on them a wage reduction. That would be unjust and discriminatory.

I am confident that in this recommendation your honorable body, and the taxpayers of the city, in all fairness and justice, will concur.

Comparisons Given

A comparison of the items in the proposed budget with the corresponding items in last year's budget will show that in some cases lesser appropriations are requested this year than last year for performing the same service; some items are exactly the same as they were last year, and some are slightly higher because of conditions beyond local control.

A factor in the rise in tax rate is the increase in veterans' exemptions. War veterans under state law are entitled to certain exemptions in their real estate assessments. Those exemptions now total $941,400.00 and are responsible for $1.44 of the proposed tax rate. In other words, if there were no veterans' exemptions, the tax rate would be $1.44 lower.

Accomplishments of 1950

Streets
Fair street was widened and reconstructed from Main street to North Front street and the street lighting was increased, thereby eliminating one of our worst traffic bottle-necks.

The Washington avenue viaduct, which was in a dangerous condition, was repaved, the pedestrian sidewalk and guard rails were rebuilt.

The East Chester street by-pass was resurfaced, putting another main artery into the city in excellent condition so that our friends in outlying areas may be encouraged to come into our city to transact their business.

Incinerator

Work is progressing to enlarge the city incinerator. When completed, it should make possible the elimination of the nuisance caused by the Summer street dump and bring much-desired relief to the residents of the central part of the city.

Sewers

Plans have been completed, and funds are available, for a sewer project which will eliminate a serious storm-water drainage problem in the Elizabeth street area.

Water

The Board of Water Commissioners have completed the installation of a large stand-pipe on Florence street, at a cost of $100,000.00, which will increase water pressure by twenty pounds in the high areas of the Third and Eighth wards, thereby increasing fire protection, insuring adequate water pressures and improving water service which will benefit approximately 4,000 residents of those two wards.

Schools

The Board of Education completed the addition to the Vocational School which, with its equipment, cost $435,000.00, and was built and equipped out of reserve and without increasing the school tax rate. This vocational school is one of the finest and best equipped to be found anywhere.

The board, in April, started the construction of the George Washington Elementary School which will be completed in 1951 in time for the fall term, and will accommodate all of the pupils of School No. 8 and a portion of the pupils of School No. 7. The new school will provide a modern educational program for children from kindergarten to and including the sixth grade. The cost of the building and equipment will be about $1,250,000.00.

Housing

The Kingston Housing Authority selected a site consisting of about eight acres on the northerly side of Flatbush avenue for its housing project for the accommodation of about 100 families. This site has been approved by all concerned and a contract for the construction of the project was entered into by our authority and the State Housing Division on August 23, 1950. Many details have been completed and a local architect is now engaged in preparing the plans and specifications. The cost of the project will be about $1,000,000 and will be paid for out of the proceeds of bonds to be sold by the Kingston Housing Authority to the State Division of Housing. No part of the cost of construction will be paid by the City of Kingston.

Broadway Crossing

After many years of public agitation to eliminate this dangerous crossing, the work is now well under way, and is expected to be completed in 1951. Property damage and construction costs are paid by the State of New York. However, it is the city's responsibility to maintain traffic. The present detour routes were fixed after consultation with the chief of police, the Chamber of Commerce, the Central Business Men's Association, the State Traffic Control Commission and the Traffic Control Committee of your honorable body. Because Broadway is the only through East-West street in the city, and because Foxhall avenue and adjoining streets in the Third Ward are not parallel streets, it is difficult to plan a traffic detour route without many right-angle turns, which delays traffic. These delays are irksome but cannot be eliminated. They will be quickly forgotten after the elimination is in operation and traffic, unhampered by train movements, flows freely and swiftly up and down Broadway. I ask all our citizens to bear with patience the temporary inconvenience demanded by public necessity.

A survey will soon be undertaken to find housing accommodations for 3,750 evacuees from New York city should there be an atom bomb attack at that point. This quota was assigned to us by the state director of civil defense. In addition, it will be the responsibility of our Civil Defense Committee to receive and send 4,400 evacuees from the reception center to housing accommodations in the town of Esopus, Ulster, Olive, Hurley, Marbletown and Rosendale. This quota has been assigned by the Ulster county director of civil defense.

May I take this opportunity to thank the many persons who have volunteered or have been recruited to serve their fellow-men through these programs should disaster overtake them.

Christmas Cheer

Our Christmas Cheer Committee, under the enthusiastic leadership, with charitable hearts and industrious hands, made 895 needy children happy on Christmas Day by the gifts which they so lovingly prepared and distributed. We thank all those who contributed in any way to the gratifying success of the splendid work of that committee.

General Operations

The city departments during the year just ended continued to furnish many essential municipal services to the residents of the city in all kinds of weather and under varying conditions. To all those who served the public faithfully and well, I say "thanks for a good job, well done."

An appropriation of $5,000 has been included in this year's budget for special police officers to direct traffic at danger points along the detour route.

If and when your honorable body makes funds available, traffic control lights will be placed at strategic points along the route to reduce hazards and speed traffic. The owners of buildings demolished in the area on Broadway affected by the crossing elimination retain ownership of practically all of the land. It is hoped that after the project is completed, and if conditions then existing permit, the affected area will be redeveloped with modern commercial buildings so that he will be insured of a modern and attractive center in our central business district.

Civilian Defense

A local Civilian Defense Committee was organized on July 1, 1950. Our air raid warning tower is ready and an air-raid spotting system organized. Divisions have been created to be responsible for public safety, public works, transportation, public health and evacuation. A program of public education—what to do in an emergency—has been inaugurated. Training programs are in progress. A reception center has been organized.

Plans for 1951

I have been purposely brief in my annual message to your honorable body. This is no time for many words. This is the time when actions speak louder than words. This is the time for all public officials and public servants to rededicate themselves to their tasks with increased loyalty and devotion. Many of our people will be burdened with increased worry and responsibilities. For that reason, we public servants should resolve to be as helpful as possible to our fellow-citizens.

To lighten their financial burdens, no municipal work which increases costs should be undertaken unless it is necessary to protect the health, safety and well-being of our people.

Conclusion

In this time of stress and danger, let us in Kingston live our daily lives in accordance with the principles of the brotherhood of man and strive for the fatherhood of God. This is the time when all Americans—all free men—regardless of race, creed or color, must stand together, serve together and fight together. If necessary, for the preservation of our liberty, our country, our homes and our wives and children. If there ever was a time when prayer was needed, it is now. Let us pray to God that we shall have the faith, the strength, the wisdom and the power to protect these precious possessions against those who would destroy them.

Civil Service Group

Expresses Appreciation

The Ulster County Chapter, Civil Service Employees Association, in a letter signed by its president, James P. Martin, expressed appreciation to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for his inclusion of a cost-of-living adjustment of $240 for city employees in his proposed 1951 budget.

The letter also called upon the Common Council to adopt the budget as recommended by the mayor. President Martin's letter read as follows:

"We the members of the Ulster County Chapter of the Civil Service Association wish to thank you for recommending to the Common Council a cost of living adjustment of $240 for the employees of the City of Kingston, N. Y. We also wish to thank you for giving up of your time while you were working on your budget to our salary committee and our representatives from our Albany headquarters staff. We sincerely hope the Common Council will adopt your budget as presented to them by you.

We also want to state here that to us no matter how busy you we never found your door closed were." able to perform the same volume of services as in previous years at the same cost. The constant rise in prices, due to the nation-wide inflation, must bring higher costs to you, city government, and consequently, to the taxpayers who pay the bill.

Mayor Asks Bonus

Municipal budget-makers throughout the length and breadth of the United States are faced with the same problem.

Washington Sets Pattern

To those who would complain about increased local taxes, I can only say that the policies responsible for the shrinking purchasing value of the dollar are national policies made by our national government in Washington. No city official is responsible for the huge national debt, brought about by deficit financing. No city official is responsible for the billions of dollars annually spent by the national government in subsidies to keep retail prices up, and other national policies which are responsible for the upward spiral of prices. And yet, the effect of those higher prices cannot be escaped in making up a municipal budget.

In compliance with the city charter, I transmit to you herewith the following:

Schedule "A"—Statement of indebtedness as of December 31, 1951.

Schedule "B"—Debt requirements for the year 1951.

Schedule "C"—Proposed budget for 1951.

The Tax Rate

The proposed tax rate is $48.56 per thousand, an increase of $5.48. More than $3.00 of that increase is caused by the increase in the county budget. The city's share of the county budget increased by about $100,000. This is an item over which the city government has no control. It gets the county tax bill and must pay it.

Rising prices during the year were responsible for an operating deficit of $17,000.00.

Pension Fund Increase

There is an increase of $5,000 in the cost of maintaining the pension fund for city employees.

$50,000.00 has been included, the same as last year, for street maintenance. We have 100 miles of streets. No substantial street maintenance work was done from 1941 until last year. Many streets must be top-dressed if our huge investment in street pavements is to be protected. $50,000 accomplishes only half of what it did comparatively few years ago.

I have included in the budget a new appropriation of $2,500 for the local Civilian Defense Council.

No one knows what the coming year will bring. If disaster should visit our community, or if we in Kingston are called upon to care for disaster victims from other areas, we should be ready to do our full part in protecting and saving human lives. The role of our local defense council is discussed in greater length in a later portion of this message.

Wages Raised $240

I have included in the budget, and recommend your approval of, an appropriation to pay a cost-of-living bonus of $240 for the year 1951 to all regular employees of the police, fire and public works departments and employees under the jurisdiction of the Common Council. Among those not included in the payment of the bonus are the mayor, city judge, alderman-at-large, aldermen, city treasurer, city clerk, city assessor, corporation counsel and special city judge. The bonus plan provides for an increase of eight cents an hour in compensation for seasonal or part-time employees on the basis of extra time only.

When I first started to prepare the budget last October, I resolved that, in view of the rising costs of living, city employees were entitled to increased compensation to permit them to meet those costs. The cost of living data published on October 1, 1950 by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics was used as a guide in arriving at my previously announced decision to recommend a five per cent cost-of-living bonus. Upon further investigation, however, I find that price indices have greatly increased since October 1st because of national wage patterns and the pressure of the war preparedness program upon our national economy brought about principally by lack of national price and wage controls. WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Groups Are Named Helping in Yule Program for Town

Woodstock, Jan. 2 — The Masonic Square Club committee has extended appreciation to all the clubs, representatives and the individuals who helped to make the 1950 Christmas celebration a success despite the weather.

The following clubs participated: American Legion Auxiliary, American Legion, Woodstock Fire Company, Woodstock Artists Association, Woodstock Home Bureau, Woodstock Market Fair, Woodstock Fish and Game Club, Woodstock Riding Club, Odd Fellows, Agapae Rebekah Club, Woodstock Civic Organization, Woodstock Town Board, Woodstock Recreation Field, Woodstock Business Association.

Prizes for decorations through the village were donated by the following: Fred Mollenhauer, William Hand, Charles Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Dordick, Leon Carey, William Mower, Mrs. Austin Mecklen, Joseph Forno, Karl Cousins, Lorenz Stowell, Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club and the Woodstock Fire Company.

The following individuals also assisted: Paul Chappin, Miss Steanken, Jack Thompson, Marjory Harder, Nelson Shultz, Joseph Wagner, Chester Wolven, Mrs. Helen Ostrander, Birge Simmons, Griffin Herrick, Jack Little, Mrs. E. Hung, Ben DeGraft, Walter Van Wageningen, Warren Hutt, Freilan Van De Bogart, Fennel Franching, Dave Huffine, Clementine Nessel, the Rev. Charles Wharton and the Rev. Harvey I. Todd.

Howard Mandel and John Pike created the Nativity scene and Jim Turnbull, Jerry Jerominek and Dick Burlingame constructed Santa's sleigh and reindeer. Dr. Crandell of Saugerties helped Santa hold his sleigh and reindeer atop the windy roof.

Appreciation was also expressed for the awarding of the prizes by judges: William Pachner, George Brandly, Ben De Graft, Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach and Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck.

Members of the Masonic Square Club were particularly impressed by the fine spirit of collaboration exhibited during the planning and execution of the program.

17 organizations and approximately 50 individuals working together. The Masonic Square Club consequently has high hopes that next year's program will be an even greater achievement.

Cold Snap Afforded

Good Skating Weather

Woodstock, Jan. 2 — The cold spell gripping the area last week had one advantage in that it provided a superb skating rink on the Woodstock recreation field where the first party of the season was given for young Woodstockers.

Thursday night, in addition to a brilliant moon, floodlights on the rink picked up the gay colors of the outfits worn by the approximately 200 skaters.

Refreshments of hot cocoa and frankfurters were served by Mrs. Margo King, Joseph Forno and Fred Tripico.

The party was arranged by the Woodstock recreation committee who prepared the rink with the cooperation of the Woodstock Fire Company No. 1.

P.T.A. Names Groups For Year's Activities

Woodstock, Jan. 2 — At a meeting of the executive committee of the Woodstock P.T.A. Wednesday night, the following committees were appointed: Program committee, Mrs. Paul Perlman, chairman, and Mrs. Leo Herbert; membership, Mrs. Hans J. Cohn; publicity, Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.; school lunch, Mrs. David Hummel and Mrs. Thomas Boggs; safety, Mrs. William J. Melville.

It was announced that art exhibitions will be held periodically at the new Woodstock school with paintings by local artists, under the direction of Morris Klein and Mrs. G. R. Quick.

The next open meeting of the P.T.A. will be held Thursday, Jan. 4, at 8 p. m. at the new Woodstock school. On January 11, the P.T.A. will hold an open house at the school.

Hoyt Kills Red Fox On Lake Hill Road

Woodstock, Jan. 2 — While on his early morning deliveries for the Woodstock Dairy on Wednesday, Elting Hoyt noticed a red fox sitting in the middle of the Upper Lake Hill road. Hoyt stopped the fox, which made no effort to run away.

Hoyt became suspicious at the animal's inactivity that it might be rabid and killed it with a stick. He returned with the fox to Woodstock and reported the incident to authorities who instructed him to have the head sent to Albany for examination. No report has yet been received on the condition of the fox.

Villagers Get Praise For Museum's Exhibit

Woodstock, Jan. 2 — The current Metropolitan Museum's handsome exhibition of "American Painting 1790-1950" is receiving warm reception by the critics and public at large, according to "The Art Digest."

Woodstock artists figure largely in the reviews and Paul Bird of "The Art Digest" writes that of the two honorable mentions "Ethel Magafan's appears to me the better painting."

Others that seem particularly well constructed are by Andre Ruefman and Sidney Lauman. A reproduction of Miss Ruefman's "Children's Mardi Gras" appeared in this column several weeks ago. He observed that "artists in the more expressive vein whose work seems outstanding include Henry Mattson."

will attack tomorrow; and another, that we can work the whole thing out in time."

Taft said some of the feeling is due "to the people in the Pentagon." He said he has "no confidence in the judgment of many of our top military people."

Standard Due for Cut
Taft said that because of defense spending the American standard of living is due for a 10 per cent cut. He said he hopes that President Truman will present a definite program soon.

In Washington, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said "prudence dictates that the United States conserve its limited resources and not fritter them away in patchwork defenses throughout the globe."

Wherry called in a radio speech for "an impregnable ring of air bases around Russia" to be set up by the U. S. and its allies. He added that "air and sea power should be our major contribution to the mutual defenses."

Not Intended as Reply
Dulles said in advance of his New York speech that it was not planned as an answer to Hoover's proposal for concentrating defense efforts in the western hemisphere. However, in the speech itself, he said:

"It is possible to plan, on paper, and describe in words what it seems to be an impregnable defense, a China Wall, a Maginot Line, a Rock of Gibraltar, an Atlantic and Pacific moat. But the mood that plans such a defense carries the seed of its own collapse. A defense that accepts encirclement quickly decomposes. That has been proved a thousand times."

Sparkman and other Democrats generally applauded Dulles' endorsement of the kind of collective international defense aimed at in the North Atlantic Pact community.

Some G.O.P. Dissent
But there was some Republican dissent.

Senator Kern (R-Mo.), a sharp critic of the Truman administration's foreign policies, complained that Dulles had not attempted to answer what the senator called Hoover's "main point."

"That our allies cannot expect continued assistance from the American people when they show convincing will to defend themselves."

Senator Schoepel (R-Kan.) told reporters he doesn't think it is "isolationism" to plan for a strong America. Previously, Mr. Truman had said that the Hoover formula was nothing more than isolationism, adding that the country wasn't going back to that.

Brodhead's 16 Points Spark Cadet Victory
"Skipper" Brodhead scored 16 points to pace the Y.M.C.A. Cadets to an easy 60-43 victory over the Ponckhockie Warriors, but Secretary's 25 points for the losers represented the best individual performance of the game.

The Cadets led 31-16 at halftime.

people of New York a spartan course for our state which I prayerfully hope will be followed here and in the nation," he asserted.

"I pledge to you a single-minded purpose in production for defense, in mobilization of manpower and in preparation for civil defense."

He called on New York to blaze a trail in preparing for "total defense" as he said, the state had done in social welfare, civil rights, slum clearance and public housing, education, health services and in setting up a civil defense organization.

Hits Hoover Proposal
Dewey hit hard at former President Herbert Hoover's proposal that the U. S. withdraw from the European and Asiatic mainlands and build the western hemisphere into a Gibraltar of defense against communism.

He did not mention Hoover by name, but said:

"If our own ideals of freedom in the world did not require it, the stark necessities of self-preservation would demand that we develop and keep strong, brave allies."

"We shall make united and mighty the forces of the free world, and swiftly, or we shall be soon isolated and left to die."

The governor said the Truman administration has a perverted America's armed might of World War 2 to "disintegrate."

Dewey said no one knows how long America will maintain its superiority in atomic warfare, and added:

"One thing above all others is clear—the atom bomb will not continue to deter aggression unless we grimly maintain our pricelessness in atomic warfare and also maintain invulnerable bases around the world from which to send the bomb."

In his message to the opening session of the Legislature tomorrow (1 p. m., E.S.T.), Dewey will lay down in detail his proposals to put New York on a war-time footing.

He will emphasize military and civil defense operations, as well as health services.

The Legislature's Republican majority and Democratic minority will meet in pre-session caucus tonight to select floor leaders.

GOP senators will re-elect Arthur H. Wickes of Kingston as majority leader and president pro tem. Assembly Republicans will pick Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady for a record 15th term as speaker and Lee M. Mailer of Cornwall as majority leader again.

The Democrats will re-designate Senator Elmer F. Quinn of Manhattan and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut of Brooklyn.

Newburgh Woman Wins Skate Title
Glens Falls, N. Y., Jan. 2 (AP)—Ray Blum of Nutley, N. J., found the going easy in retaining his senior men's title in the Glens Falls Winter Carnival ice skating races.

Blum, 1948 Olympic team member, amassed 80 points in the fifth annual meet here Saturday and Sunday to lead Bobby Jahn of Bogota, N. J., who posted 50. Don McDermott of New York city placed third with 40 points.

Gwendolyn DuBois of Newburgh dethroned Mary Lynch, a Newburgh, in the senior women's competition. Miss DuBois collected 130 points to 100 for Miss Lynch.

Many millions of Americans passed yesterday quietly, after spending Sunday in prayer for God's help in the search for peace. In Philadelphia, more than a million spectators braved near-freezing temperatures to watch gaily-garbed Mummers march in their annual welcome to the New Year.

Elsewhere in the nation, generally mild weather provided holiday throngs with fine weather for strolling. The holiday traffic toll was below the 330 predicted by the National Safety Council.

In all, yesterday was a quiet holiday ideal for motorists to recuperate from hangovers.

But reports indicated mother earth still would have her headache today.

Three Accidents Checked

State police at Highland investigated three automobile accidents in that area over the weekend, two in which there were no injuries and a third in which Patsy Mersca, 25, 77 North Bridge street, Poughkeepsie, received a laceration of the forehead and was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The accident happened midway between the Highland circle and the Mid-Hudson bridge at 3:15 a. m. New Years. A car operated by Dominick Constantino, 23, of 2 Morgan avenue, Poughkeepsie, was reported to have struck a car of Frealon Gleason, 36, of 12 Zimmer avenue, Poughkeepsie, which state police report was parked on the highway. Miss Mersca was riding in the Constantino car.

This Time Authentic
Sheffield, Eng., Jan. 2 (AP)—Last June Walter Marshall was accused in court of smashing a grocer's plate glass window. He said he was innocent, but was fined £10 anyway. He brooded about it today. Marshall, a 44-year-old machinist, was back in the same court on the same charge. He told the judge: "Ever since last June that window has been the same to me as a red flag to a bull. Last night I picked up a stone and flung it through the glass deliberately. Last time I did not do it. This time I did." The judge fined him another £10.

Freeze and Snow Intensify Crisis

London, Jan. 2 (AP)—Freezing weather and widespread snow intensified a creeping fuel and power crisis in the British Isles today.

Prime Minister Attlee tipped off the government's alarm by summoning coal mine union leaders to a conference tomorrow. They will discuss means of stepping up output and recruiting new workers.

Meanwhile the state-owned electricity system broadcast a nationwide appeal for economy in the use of power. It coupled this with power cuts running up to 10 per cent in most parts of the country.

"Unless consumers cooperate," said a spokesman, "the result will be disruption in industry."

Some sections of the press described the situation as the worst since 1947, when a fuel shortage threw nearly 3,000,000 persons out of work.

To Try for Interview
New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—A Baltimore man who got turned down in England when he tried to see King George, now plans to try for an interview with President Truman. He is Charles Johnson, 31. He described himself to reporters at La Guardia Airport Sunday as a "retired U. S. Army lieutenant, by the grace of God." Johnson arrived by plane from London. He said he wanted to discuss federation of Europe with King George, and was also "personally curious to see him."

Council Holds First '51 Session

The Common Council met Monday morning for its regular January 1 organizational meeting to receive the mayor's message, to hear appointments and to dispose of other business required by the City Charter for the first day of each year.

Following the reading by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of his annual message, the aldermen voted that it be printed in pamphlet form.

County Judge John M. Cashin administered the oath to Mayor Newkirk.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly announced that Common Council committees will remain the same as last year. Roger Verry was re-elected Council page boy.

The Kingston Daily Freeman and the Ulster County News and Kingston Leader were designated as official papers for the year.

The invocation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel. The Rev. John A.

Flaherty of St. Mary's Church gave the benediction.

New Desk Set for New Sheriff

Sheriff Cluett Schantz is presented with a new desk set Friday afternoon at the courthouse by Attorney Frederick Stang. Left to right are Kenneth Wilson, Woodstock supervisor and majority leader of the Board of Supervisors; Robert Snyder, clerk of the board; John J. Gaffney, ranking minority leader; Cluett Schantz and Frederick Stang. Schantz was given his oath of office by County Clerk Harry D. Sutton. (Freeman Photo)

Freeze and Snow Intensify Crisis

London, Jan. 2 (AP) — Freezing weather and widespread snow intensified a creeping fuel and power crisis in the British Isles today.

Prime Minister Attlee tipped off the government's alarm by summoning coal mine union leaders to a conference tomorrow. They will discuss means of stepping up output and recruiting new workers.

Meanwhile the state-owned Why Thousands of Doctors prescribe pleasant tasting PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS (CAUSED BY COLDS)

electricity system broadcast a nationwide appeal for economy in the use of power. It coupled this with power cuts running up to 10 per cent in most parts of the country.

"Unless consumers cooperate," said a spokesman, "the result will be disruption in industry." Some sections of the press described the situation as the worst since 1947, when a fuel shortage threw nearly 3,000,000 persons out of work.

To Try for Interview
New York, Jan. 2 (AP)—A Baltimore man who got turned down in England when he tried to see King George, now plans to try for an interview with President Truman. He is Charles Johnson, 31. He described himself to reporters at La Guardia Airport Sunday as a "retired U. S. Army lieutenant, by the grace of God." Johnson arrived by plane from London. He said he wanted to discuss federation of Europe with King George, and was also "personally curious to see him."

'Pack Artillery'
The 13th century Mongol horsemen carried "pack artillery"—mobile catapults that could be taken apart and quickly reassembled, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Council Holds First '51 Session

The Common Council met Monday morning for its regular January 1 organizational meeting to receive the mayor's message, to hear appointments and to dispose of other business required by the City Charter for the first day of each year.

Following the reading by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of his annual message, the aldermen voted that it be printed in pamphlet form.

County Judge John M. Cashin administered the oath to Mayor Newkirk.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph Kelly announced that Common Council committees will remain the same as last year. Roger Yerry was re-elected Council page boy.

The Kingston Daily Freeman and the Ulster County News and Kingston Leader were designated as official papers for the year.

The invocation was given by Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel. The Rev. John A.

Flaherty of St. Mary's Church gave the benediction.
